

DEMOCRATS STAGE ORGY OF ENTHUSIASTIC ACCLAM FOR AL SMITH; CRISP NOMINATES SENATOR GEORGE

SIX STATES JOIN IN DEMONSTRATION FOR FAVORITE SON

Congressman Charles R. Crisp Is First Orator of Night Session in Convention Hall.

PARADE FOR GEORGE LASTS 15 MINUTES

Impressive Tributes Paid Memories of Thomas R. Marshall and William J. Bryan.

BY JAMES L. WILLIAMS, Associated Press Staff Writer.
 Sam Houston Hall, Houston, June 27.—The presidential claims of democracy's favorite sons were presented to the party's national convention tonight amid roars of enthusiasm.
 To start things off, the dry state delegations staged a noisy parade for Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, who was placed in nomination by Representative Charles R. Crisp, of that state. Then the convention set up a tremendous cheer when the name of Alfred E. Smith was mentioned by Franklin D. Roosevelt, who presented the "governor of New York" for the consideration of the convention. The first cheer for Smith was cut short by the chairman.

Mr. Crisp spoke for more than half an hour for his fellow Georgian and a parade with many southern banners paraded again and again about the hall for him. Roosevelt, who followed, mentioned the "governor of New York" in his first few words, but there appeared to be no inclination on the part of the Smith men to start any demonstration prematurely, although it was indicated from the beginning that the enthusiasm for the New Yorker would be in evidence at the proper time.

Mr. Crisp pleaded for the support of other southern states for Senator George, reminding Alabama that when she had a favorite son, Georgia had stood by him. He referred to the candidacy of Oscar W. Underwood four years ago.

The Georgian got his first real applause when he said there had been but two "moral questions" before the country since its inception—slavery and prohibition.

"Prohibition is a moral issue," he said, "and the democratic party must not compromise on that question. The gentleman I am going to nominate is in favor of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act and will not consent that that great moral question is better to be true to your ideals than to yield to expediency."

The dry delegates throughout the hall applauded and there was some cheering, brief and scattered.

Parade for George.
 When the concluding speech was given, the Georgia delegation stood and with a big picture of their candidate attached to their state standard, started a parade round the hall. The standards of Florida and Alabama fell into line.

Members of the three delegations all had been equipped with small American flags and some of the Georgians also lugged along a 20-foot banner supported high by their heads on two wooden standards, reading "The constitution, it must be preserved," perhaps the most famous words of Andrew Jackson.

The alternate standards of the three states, as well as those in their delegate spaces, were out into the parade and it progressed. It was joined also by the standards of Nebraska and North and South Carolina, carried by anti-Smith delegates from those states.

The band played a quick-step made up of a variation of southern tunes as the parade wound round and round the hall. The convention officials made no effort to stop the noise.

The parade was led by Ralph Rosier, of Lafayette, Ga., an attorney. Efforts were made by the Georgia boosters to get Tennessee to join them, but delegates from that state refused to do so, explaining that they had a candidate of their own.

Among the Georgia enthusiasts who paraded, waving an American flag and shaking a rattle, was William J. Harris, George's colleague in the senate.

By the time the parade had been on 10 minutes, the marchers had about yelled themselves out and most of the noise was being made by the three official convention bands, placed one on each of three sides of the hall, and all blaring away full tilt at the same time.

Good Natured Cheers.
 Evidently most of the anti-Smith people were doing all they could to help matters along for the Georgia candidate, and even a group of Massachusetts delegates, all last ditch Smith supporters, went into a huddle

TYDINGS RESENTS BISHOP'S CHARGE DURING HEARING

Glass Takes Hand But Two Are Quieted and Work Goes Ahead on Drafting Platform.

BY PAUL R. MALLON, United News Staff Correspondent.
 Houston, June 27.—(United News) The wet and dry sham battle got so hot today that a fight between Senator Carter Glass of Virginia and Senator Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland, had to be forcibly averted by other members of the platform committee.

Tydings advanced toward Glass and was within two feet of the slight Virginia senator when Senator Cole Blease of South Carolina stepped in. Tydings scrambled with Blease, trying to move past him to get at Glass.

Insult to State.
 Tydings had protested that Bishop James E. Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was insulting the state of Maryland in saying Maryland was shipping liquor into West Virginia. Tydings accused Cannon of making a misstatement and then compounding it.

Glass rose, protesting.
 Glass said Tydings was out of order in his characterization of Bishop Cannon. Cannon repeated his statement.

"That's a falsehood," shouted Tydings. "If you had an ounce of fairness in you, you would not make such a statement."

Glass steps forward.
 Glass kept moving menacingly toward Tydings, shouting he was out of order. Tydings thereupon started for Glass. All the time Bishop Cannon was shouting:

"Have you got an enforcement act in Maryland?"
 "No, we have honest citizens there and don't need it," Tydings at once replied.

Chairman Pittman, who had no gavel and was using a carpenter's hammer instead, was pounding in vain for order.

It took five minutes to restore peace. Tydings was escorted back to his seat and Cannon he permitted to proceed and the motion was adopted amid applause.

Mass organizations concluded at 7 p. m. and the full platform committee adjourned until 9 a. m. Thursday. The drafting subcommittee was ordered to meet at 9 p. m. to work all night.

THREE SHIPS BEGIN AMUNDSEN HUNT

Sealer Reports Sighting Airship Down on Ice But Is Unable To Get Near Them Due To Floes.

Oslo, Norway, June 27.—(AP)—Search for Roald Amundsen and his five companions missing since June 18 got under full swing today as three vessels sailed from Tromsø for northern waters and other expeditions were rapidly preparing to leave.

The Norwegian cruiser Tordenskjold, the French auxiliary vessel Quentin Roosevelt and the sealer Heimland, which the French government has chartered, left Tromsø and will search throughout the neighborhood of Bear Island. This island is midway between the coast of Norway and Spitzbergen being directly in the path of the route which the French plane carrying the noted explorer was expected to take.

Talk of Bolting Rapidly Disappears At Houston Meet

Smith Gains Strength as Convention Progresses Without Leaders Canvassing Delegations for Votes—Keynote Address Solidifies All Elements for Party Success.

BY CLARK HOWELL, Editor The Constitution.
 Houston, June 27.—The second day of the national democratic convention closes with no material difference in the viewpoint as presented at the close of the first.

It is still Smith for president with the apparent certainty of Robinson for vice president.

Smith is stronger than at any time and if he is not nominated on the first ballot it will be because his leaders do not ask for the votes that are certain to come to him as the balloting progresses.

They believe it to be the better policy to let the drift take its course with the certainty that the second ballot, or at most, the third, will close this chapter of the convention's work. They are canvassing none of the state delegations, as is usual, their attitude being "come on boys when you are ready, we will receive you with open arms."

Tomorrow will tell the story.

Talk of Bolting Disappears.
 Whatever talk there was about bolting has largely disappeared, except from among the few who came here with that deliberately expressed purpose—in the event of Smith's nomination. Strange to say, some of them turned to Reed to lead them out of the morass in which they found themselves, but the doughy Missouri senator gave cold comfort to the effort to place him in the attitude of a party insurrectionist.

George and Hull, and every other one spoken of as presidential candidates take the same position, George repeating today his admonition to the Georgia delegation to remember they had an obligation to assume when they get home.

The masterly address of Claude Bowers, as temporary chairman in sounding the party keynote, has had a wonderful effect in solidifying all elements for party success and in quieting, even among the extremists, such talk as there was of party revolt.

G. O. P. Scored in Keynote Address.
 A prominent western democrat told me today that the appeal of Claude Bowers for a real effort at farm relief, and his brilliant castigation of the administration for its utter failure to do anything to control big business, would go far toward breaking the republican solidarity of several of the trans-Mississippi states, where the agrarian revolt against the party grows in intensity. No more severe philippic was ever delivered against a party in power and it takes its place among the great convention addresses of either party for the past thirty years.

He did not touch the prohibition question, emphasizing the conclusion that the convention will content itself with an endorsement of law enforcement measures, leaving to the candidate for president the statement of his attitude in behalf of modification of existing laws. Smith went out of his way on the eve of the meeting of the convention to state just where he stood so there can be no misunderstanding on that point. He will again stress, as the campaign opens, his positive position in behalf of enforcement, and guarantee better results than have been obtained during the past eight years' reign of the bootlegging industry.

So the cards are set for tomorrow's turn, and the outlook is as bright for a harmonious conclusion as at any time in the history of party conventions.

This will, no doubt, be displeasing to those who have been not only expecting, but courting trouble, and especially to those who for the past two months have been smearing Governor Smith with mud, overlooking the fact that they have been feeding the enemy with welcome ammunition.

Rift in Georgia Delegation.
 The only rift, so far, in the Georgia delegation was caused by the tender to Senator George to W. T. Anderson, of the Macon Telegraph, of a position as a member of the delegation to fill a vacancy. In view of his outspoken advocacy of Smith some of the members of the delegation objected to his appointment to membership on the delegation. A committee of the dissenting members called on Mr. Anderson, telling him politely that he would be persona non grata to some of the members. He told them that he had not sought the appointment and that the matter was entirely up to Senator George, who was authorized to fill vacancies.

Senator George, with commendable courage, stood pat and tendered Mr. Anderson his credentials, whereupon the latter declined to serve, preferring to remain unfettered in his loyal support of the action of the convention without being embarrassed by being placed in the attitude of defending his own work as a convention participant.

"I would have told that to the committee that waited on me but I just wanted them to see that Senator George has no feathers on his legs and he demonstrated the fact that he had none. No man would have been happier than I to see him nominated for the presidency but facts are facts and I have never yet shut my eyes to them," said Mr. Anderson.

It is worthy of note that many members of the delegation volunteered their report of the incident, making it clear that the committee that called on Mr. Anderson spoke for themselves and without action of the delegation, before which the matter was not brought. Meanwhile it develops that he is not as persona non grata as he was told, for several of the members of the delegation have gone out of their way to show him their good will and to express their regrets.

GEORGIA BANNER JOINS IN PARADE AS FIGHTS RAGE

Standard Keeper Holds to Ensign for Awhile But Two Delegates Take It Into Aisles.

BY O. S. MORTON, Staff Writer of the Atlanta Bureau of The Associated Press.

Houston, June 27.—(AP)—Georgia shared the limelight today in a series of demonstrations which broke when the states began parading following Senator Robinson's reference to Thomas Jefferson's philosophy of religious tolerance, both Georgian banners were in the parade.

The disturbance which assumed the proportions of a riot in the vicinity of the Alabama, Tennessee and North Carolina delegations was short-lived in the Georgia section further back in the hall. It consisted of a brief struggle for possession of the state standard.

Question Is Raised.
 While banners of most states were moving about the hall in a twisting parade, Andrew C. Erwin, of Athens, raised the question within the delegation that Georgia's banner should be in the march. The tumult and milling of delegates was so great that no poll could be taken, delegates said, and Erwin crossed over to the end of the row of seats where Charlie Brown, of Cordelle, keeper of the Georgia standard, sat with the banner fastened to the groove beside him. Brown declined to meet with desistance from the standard and there was a short tussle for its possession. Hasty conferences ensued, but before delegates from surrounding sections had climbed to seats to watch Georgia and a policeman dashed up.

Joins in Parade.
 Finally Judge A. B. Lovett, Savannah, took up the standard and accompanied by Erwin, joined in the parade. Meanwhile, Charles Martin, of Athens, went back to the section occupied by alternate delegates and obtained the second standard which he put into the parade. Martin said he met with desistance from some one after one of the women delegates had taken the banner from its groove and handed it to him.

While the chairman was endeavoring to restore order, Senator William J. Harris, chairman of the delegation, accompanied by Thomas J. Hamilton, Augusta, went back to the Associated Press room behind the speakers' stand, where Harris explained that there was no dissent in the delegation over the standard, but that the affair was confined to Brown and Erwin.

Brown told newspapermen later that he declined to release the state standard because he did not think religious toleration was an issue in the campaign and that he believed Robinson "wrong in endeavoring to inject the issue through his speech."

Smith Smokes Cigar, Drinks And Listens

It's Water—Four Glasses of It—Governor Smiles at Nomination.

Albany, N. Y., June 27.—(United News).—Seated in the ball room of the executive mansion, Governor Alfred E. Smith tonight heard over the radio the tremendous demonstration accorded him in Houston, Texas, when his name was put in nomination for the presidency at the democratic national convention.

His only visible reaction was to chew harder on a six-inch cigar which was clamped between his teeth—and to drink four glasses of ice water in rapid succession.

Smith's face showed not a trace of emotion throughout the nomination speech of Franklin D. Roosevelt. When Roosevelt had finished, Smith relaxed and he smiled ever so slightly. Then he left the room.

As the demonstration continued, Smith returned and accepted the good wishes of a number of friends who had gathered for the occasion.

Roosevelt Offers Smith as Bearer Of Party Banner

Says Party Expediency Is Not Prime Factor in Choosing Candidate for Presidency.

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, in nominating Governor Al Smith, of New York, for the presidency, said:

"I could for the third time to urge upon a convention of my party, the nomination of the governor of the state of New York. The faith which I held I still hold. It has been justified in his achievement. The whole country now has learned the measure of his greatness."

During another four years his every act has been under the searchlight of friend and foe and he has not been found wanting. Slowly, surely, the proper understanding of this man has spread from coast to coast, from north to south. Most noteworthy is this fact, that the understanding of his stature has been spread by no paid propaganda, by no effort on his part to do other than devote his time, his head and his heart to the duties of his high office and the welfare of the state. CORDELE IS HOST TO DOUBLE MEET

Cordele, June 2.—Two distinguished groups of Georgia citizens are expected in Cordele this week. The Third District Medical association began its forty-second semi-annual session at the courthouse here Wednesday and on Thursday and Friday the county officers of Georgia will hold their forty-second annual session here. Hundreds of visitors are expected on these two occasions.

The programs have been announced and all arrangements have been made. Wednesday afternoon the medical society was called to order. There were prominent physicians present from Macon, Atlanta, Savannah and Birmingham, as well as those of the district. Out-of-town physicians who appear on the program for papers and discussions are Dr. A. G. Fort, Atlanta; Dr. Ford Ware, Americus; Dr. Robert C. Fendlergrass, Americus; Dr. Taylor S. Burgess, Dr. C. C. Primrose, Americus; Dr. M. M. Stapier, Macon; Dr. A. E. Russell, Fitzgerald; Dr. S. S. Hays, Birmingham; Dr. T. E. Rogers, Macon; Dr. John W. Daniel, Savannah; Dr. E. B. Anderson, Americus; Dr. Sylvester Cain, Plains; Dr. C. K. Sharpe, president of the Medical Association of Georgia, Arlington; Dr. G. Y. Moore, Columbus.

Officers of the association are Dr. J. T. Stokes, Americus, president; Dr. V. C. Jakes, Vienna, vice president; Dr. Charles A. Greer, Oglethorpe, secretary-treasurer. There has been an interesting program arranged for the county officers by Sheriff C. O. Noble and his committee. Hon. George W. Napier, attorney-general of Georgia; Judge Roscoe Lake, Den T. Watkins, president, and H. G. Bradley, secretary of the association, will be among those to deliver addresses.

RECRUITS NEEDED FOR MEDICAL UNIT OF 122D INFANTRY

More recruits are needed by the medical detachment of the 122nd infantry, Georgia National guard, to complete the personnel for the summer camp of instruction at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala., July 16-29. It was announced Wednesday. As an aid in enlisting the necessary number, a recruiting station office has been established at 75 North Forsyth street.

ALLEGED SUSPECT IN MELLETT CASE IS RELEASED HERE

Release from the city jail late Wednesday of Cecil R. Porter, former soldier and stevedock, who claimed that he was an accessory to the murder two years ago of Don L. Mellett, Canton newspaper editor, followed word from Canton police that Porter was "not believed to have had any connection with the Mellett slaying and is not wanted in Canton." Porter came to police station late Tuesday night and surrendered to Police Captain James L. Gordon, alleging that he was an accessory to the murder of Mellett. He asked to be locked up and returned to Canton, but refused to give police any of the details surrounding the killing.

Final Services Held For Everett Streeter, Student at Tech High

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for Everett Streeter, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Streeter of 1162 Donnelly avenue. He had lived in Atlanta since the age of 4, the family having moved here at that time from Chicago. He had completed the course at the Joel Chandler Harris school, and the Joe Brown Junior high, after which he was a student at Tech High school until illness necessitated his withdrawal.

MUSE MILLINERY DESIGNER LEAVES FOR EUROPEAN TRIP

Mrs. Margaret Gary, creator of Gary hats for the George Muse Clothing company, left Atlanta Wednesday for New York, from which city she will sail Saturday on the Mauretania for Europe for a two months' buying trip.

ANOTHER 30-DAY TERM CONTINUES DRIVE ON DRUNKS

Sentencing to 30 days in the stockade of another automobile driver who appeared before him charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, Recorder A. W. Callaway Wednesday continued his drive against drunken drivers while a letter from three local organizations congratulated the recorder on his stand and promised him their support and cooperation.

R. E. Lee, of 37 First avenue, was tried before Recorder Callaway Wednesday and sentenced to 30 days in the stockade. Patrolmen Malcolm and Patterson testified that Lee was speeding and driving without lights and that he failed to stop when they flagged him about midnight Tuesday on Highland avenue. About two hours later they found the car parked at Highland and Glen Iris with Lee asleep inside, they said.

CLEMENCY SOUGHT FOR ROBERT JONES

Attorneys for Robert Jones, Bibb county negro condemned to be electrocuted July 6, appeared before Governor Hardman Wednesday and asked that the death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment. The state prison commission recently heard this plea but declined to recommend clemency. Jones was convicted on a murder charge.

2 THIRTEEN-MONTH SENTENCES GIVEN IN FORGERY CASES

Charged with forging an uttering a government check for $106.00, Robert Lee McConnell pleaded guilty Wednesday in United States district court and was sentenced by Judge Samuel H. Sibley to serve 13 months in the federal penitentiary. Clyde Smith Browning, who pleaded guilty to charges of forging and uttering a government obligation to realize on his brother-in-law's adjusted service certificate, was given a similar term in prison.

McConnell forged the indorsement on a treasury check issued to L. M. McConnell, prominent attorney of Knoxville, Tenn., and cashed the check in Atlanta. It was charged. Browning took an adjusted service certificate for $76 from William E. Morrison, his brother-in-law, and forged papers to obtain a loan on the certificate, the government alleged. Robert Lee Grissom, 17, pleaded guilty to a charge of transporting a stolen automobile from Gadsden, Ala., to Dawson county, Ga., and was given a year and a day in the penitentiary. Grissom told Judge Sibley that he took the automobile to haul liquor for a bootlegger so that he could earn money to complete his education.

JENKINS WILL SPEAK BEFORE "THIRTY" CLUB

Judge Frank Jenkins, of the state court of appeals, will address the College Park "Thirty" club at its regular meeting and dinner tonight in the Women's club auditorium. Vincent P. Cefalo, Atlanta's winner in the state high school music meet, will play several selections on the violin, accompanied by Miss Avis Patterson, of College Park.

Change in Operation Of St. Mountain Car Sought by Company

The Georgia Power company Wednesday filed a petition with the state public service commission asking authority to discontinue operation of the Stone Mountain street car line between Atlanta and Decatur. The petition was filed by F. L. Butler, vice president and general operating manager. The case will be heard July 24, according to an announcement by James A. Perry, chairman of the commission.

Under the proposed plan the street railway company will operate the Stone Mountain line from the station Stone Mountain to Decatur. Passengers then would transfer to other lines running from Decatur to Atlanta. They would be charged the same rate on the line from Stone Mountain

H. B. JONES WINS FREEDOM IN TRIAL FOR DEATH OF WIFE

H. B. Jones, of De Foor avenue, near Crooked road, was acquitted by a superior court jury Wednesday morning on charges of having murdered his wife, Florence, in a vacant lot adjoining his home on the night of April 22.

Locked up for the night, the jury reached a verdict two hours after resuming its deliberations Wednesday. The body of Mrs. Jones was found by neighbors lying across her husband, whom witnesses described as stupefied by drink. A raincoat belonging to Mrs. Jones had been stretched across the pair, shielding them from a downpour. At a trial several weeks ago the jury failed to make a verdict, and the Jones case was reset for hearing. Attorneys Len B. Gillette and Robert Carpenter, Jr., represented Jones.

HELD IN NARCOTIC RAID, J. T. REESE MAKES $10,000 BOND

Held for the federal grand jury on charges of possessing, selling and transporting 78 ounces of morphine, J. T. Reese, a railroad conductor, made bond of $10,000 Wednesday after preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith. W. F. Lanford and H. R. McCready, alleged confederates of Reese in the delivery of the 78-ounce package Tuesday, were held for $1,000 bond each, the comparatively small bonds being assessed the pair at the instance of the government. Reese, Lanford and McCready were arrested by narcotic agents after an alleged attempt to sell the 78 ounces to J. J. Higgins, assistant narcotic agent in charge, who prepared the trap and posed as "Dr. King" in the alleged negotiations.

GREAT FIREWORKS DISPLAY PLANNED AT LAKEWOOD PARK

Gigantic set pieces of fireworks will be displayed in the Thearle-Duff fireworks display which climaxes the July 4 celebration at Lakewood park. All of the newest inventions in this line will be shown, including both domestic and imported shells and rockets. The new Italian five-break shell, which releases five different showers of contrasting color, will be among the effects. In addition to the aerial numbers and huge mechanical and ground pieces, there will be a reproduction of the finished portion of the Stone Mountain memorial done in jets of fire and showing General Robert E. Lee astride his famous horse, Traveller. The piece will be nearly 50 feet square, one of the largest ever shown in the south.

SAVANNAH AFTER
VETERANS' REUNION

Savannah, Ga., June 27.—(AP)—Efforts are being made here by officials of the United Spanish War veterans to arrange a reunion in Savannah next October of the old Thirty-first Michigan Volunteer Infantry and the former first Georgia regiment, now the 118th field artillery, Georgia national guard.

Ties of friendship between the two military organizations, persisting long after their origin during the Spanish-American war, have caused them to be popularly identified as the "twin unit."

Colonel William L. Grayson, Savannah, national vice commander of the Spanish war veterans, has announced that plans are being made to bring the Michigan veterans by Savannah while en route to the national convention of the veterans at Havana in October.

Overtures have already been made to Brigadier General C. W. Harrah, Detroit, Michigan national guard, retired, seeking to have the Michigan party routed by Savannah on the Savannah trip. Colonel Grayson said Michigan veterans are said to have shown much enthusiasm over the proposal.

The historic friendship between the two commands was explained by Colonel Grayson as the outgrowth of an incident that occurred in 1898 while the two organizations were in active service in Georgia.

Ordered from Griffin to Chickamauga, the Georgia outfit had spent the better part of a day en route by train, the story goes. When they disembarked from their cars they were obliged to march in the rain from the railway to Chickamauga park.

Upon their arrival at camp, footsore and chilled, and before they could begin pitching tents or setting up kitchen equipment, the Michigan men invited the Georgians to visit their

GEORGIAN IS GIVEN
HIGH JESUIT POST
AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., June 27.—Rev. John M. Slater, S. J., was installed today as provincial of the New Orleans province of the Society of Jesus, succeeding the Very Rev. Edward Cummings who had been provincial about five years.

Father Slater is a native of Sparta, Ga. After taking higher studies at St. Louis university and at Woodstock, Md., he was for two years on the staff of Loyola university here. He was next appointed master of novices for the New Orleans province serving at Macon, Ga., until the novitiate was destroyed by fire when he then moved to Grand Coteau. His headquarters here will be at 4133 Banks street.

TO UNVEIL LANIER
MEMORIAL SEPT. 9

Macon, Ga., June 27.—(AP)—Sunday, September 3, was designated as the date of the unveiling of the Sylvester Lanier boulder in the Westminster Abbey of the South at Fletcher, N. C., by the members of the Lanier Memorial committee today.

The inscription on the tablet on the face of the boulder will read "In memory of Sylvester Lanier, 1842-1881, poet and musician who spent his last days among these hills." Below this will be a line from one of Lanier's poems, "Thyself Thy Monument."

On the back of the boulder will be another tablet inscribed: "Erected 1928 by the school children of his birthplace, Macon, Bibb county, Georgia."

"Just soap and water" is the best advice for women who want modern rules for skin care.

But not just any soap. For beauty is too precious to risk. The soap should be a complexion soap—a soap made for just that, and nothing else.

For natural charm is the urge today. And natural charm comes from natural methods. The natural beautifiers in Palmolive Soap are the rich beautifiers of olive and palm oils, famed for centuries.

These soothing, unguent oils in its rich lather are largely responsible for the beautiful complexion you see wherever you look.

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive. With your two hands massage its luxuriant lather abundantly into the skin, cleansing it thoroughly, opening the pores. Then rinse, first with warm, then with cold water. Dry by patting with a soft towel. That is all. A dash of cold cream if skin is dry. Today get Palmolive. The LAST few dollars BUY Value

Almost any furnace manufacturer can cheapen his product. But for 30 years the Moncrief Furnace Company has devoted its entire resources to the development and manufacture of the best furnace that scientific engineering, quality materials and expert workmanship could produce.

This policy has brought to Moncrief a reputation for efficiency, performance and economy that has never been surpassed. Today architects, contractors and realtors recognize the Moncrief as being the Standard furnace of the South.

Naturally, then, the Moncrief costs more than other furnaces. It is worth more. The few additional dollars you are asked to pay for Moncrief quality are your investment in comfort, health, efficiency, constant heating satisfaction and economy of operation.

A Moncrief engineer will gladly explain the details of the Moncrief and Moncrief's plan of scientific installation which is equally as important as the furnace itself.

RAMSPECK REPLIES TO CARFARE QUERIES

Decatur, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—In an open letter to former United States District Attorney Hooper Alexander, Robert C. W. Ramspeck, candidate for the legislature from DeKalb county, Wednesday declared that he was not in favor of authorizing the state public service commission to disregard the local contract for 5-cent carfare held with the Georgia Power company.

Mr. Ramspeck's letter was in answer to a series of questions propounded by Mr. Alexander recently and published in the local newspaper, addressed to all candidates for the legislature. All of the Alexander questions were devoted to the controversy over the retention of the five-cent fare.

Mr. Ramspeck categorically declared that he was not of the belief that "it is morally right for the state to require us to pay a 10-cent fare without regard to our contract," and stated that in his opinion the question of whether the state can repeal the contract or any other that should be similarly entered into, was "a legal question."

"This is a legal question," Ramspeck replied in his letter, "and in my opinion has no bearing on the race for the legislature. Lawyers differ in their opinion on this subject. The supreme court will have to settle it if the legislature should repeal it. However, I do not think the legislature ought to attempt to interfere in this matter. I do not think we can now make a valid contract as far as without without legislative authority."

REGENT OF D. A. R.
HOUSE HERE VINS
IN CONTEMPT CASE

Contempt proceedings against Mrs. Irving Thomas, as regent of the D. A. R. chapter house on Fifteenth street, brought by residents who complained of alleged noisy dances at the chapter house, were dismissed Wednesday by Judge Virgil B. Moore, in Fulton superior court.

Residents of the vicinity in April asked an injunction restraining the chapter from renting the house to public dances. Judge Moore declined to enjoin the chapter, but ruled that dances must be chaperoned and policed.

In asking the contempt order, petitioners alleged this provision of the court had been violated, and that noisy dances continued to disturb people living near the clubhouse.

Attorney St. Clair Gibbs represented the complainants, while J. L. Luckworth was counsel for Mrs. Thomas. Before dismissing the contempt proceedings, Judge Moore ruled that the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., was answerable to the complaint, and not Mrs. Thomas, as regent.

SCOUTS OF TRION
PLAN AUTO TOUR OF OTHER STATES

Summerville, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—The Boy Scouts of Trion are planning to make an automobile tour of the west, under the leadership of the Rev. F. H. Ray, pastor of the Trion Methodist church. The party will be made up of the Scout patrol leaders, senior patrol leaders and assistant scoutmaster. They will leave Trion July 8, going by way of Birmingham, Vicksburg, Shreveport, Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Ardmore, Okla.; Hot Springs, Ark.; and back to Chattanooga via Memphis.

Several citizens of the county will accompany the scout party and the following boys are scheduled for the trip: George Peck, junior assistant scoutmaster; James Hammond, senior patrol leader; Lee Broom, Frank Agnew, Carson Bell and John Giles.

The Rev. Mr. Ray has been granted a special leave of absence by his church so that he can accompany the scouts on their tour.

SALVATION ARMY
PLANS RELIGIOUS
ACTIVITY IN SOUTH

Salvation Army divisional commanders and territorial executives here for the commissioning of new officers Tuesday night planned at conference Wednesday for intensive evangelistic campaigns throughout the 15 southern states, using the reinforcements afforded in the 49 new officers to increase the religious activity of the army.

Brigadier Donald McMillan, Florida commander; Major W. E. Hickman, South Carolina commander; Staff Captain George Rose, Alabama commander; Staff Captain Rivers Leiby, Georgia commander; and senior William A. McIntire, Colonel Alfred A. Chandler, chief secretary, and Colonel Walter Peacock, field secretary, were leaders in the conference.

Increased emphasis on young people's work was planned with the appointment of Cadet Captains and Mrs. Langley Andrews, newly commissioned officers, as field organizers for the life-saving, scouts, and life-saving building organization, and life-saving guards, girls' character building organization, sponsored by the Salvation Army for young people who are not members or in the families of members of the army.

TO BRING FUGITIVE
BACK TO SAVANNAH
FOR RESENTING

Savannah, Ga., June 27.—(AP)—Charles D. Redding, United States attorney for the southern district of Georgia, said today that Captain C. H. ("Pop") Neale, arrested Saturday in Miami as a fugitive from justice, will be brought to this district for sentencing.

Neale has been a fugitive since November 6, 1926, when he was convicted in federal court on indictment of accepting a bribe and impersonating a government officer. He disappeared over a week-end recess of the court before sentence could be passed.

Later Neale became involved with colonial authorities in the Bahamas over seizure of liquor in territorial waters.

Army Orders
Major C. E. Cullidge, ordnance reserve, 98 Page street, Atlanta, has with him been ordered to active duty at Fort Randolph Arsenal, Pa. Major Cullidge will be on an active duty tour for a period of 14 days beginning July 8.

Captain J. W. Swensen, infantry reserve, Atlanta, Ga., has been ordered to active duty training at Fort Benning, Ga., effective September 15.

Captain Jay R. Baskin, dental corps, at present on duty at Fort Davis, Canal Zone, Panama, has been ordered to active duty training at Fort Benning, Ga., effective September 15.

Rain, Sunshine
Will Alternate
Throughout Day

Umbrellas will be fashionable today to protect straw hats, C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist, forecast Wednesday. Occasional showers will alternate with the sunshine during the day and Atlanta should be prepared accordingly. The weather man said.

Little change in temperature is expected, the moderate and pleasant weather being expected to continue through today. The high reading of the day probably will be in the neighborhood of 80 degrees, the forecaster said.

Queer Cave Near Barwick Believed
Old Indian Home

Thomasville, Ga., June 27.—People of Thomasville have been interested in making trips to a cave, known locally as the "Devil's Hopper," located about a mile and a half north of Barwick, town in the eastern section of Thomas county.

Entrance to the cave is through a hole in a rock in the bottom of what resembles one of the sink holes of Florida. There is, in the rock, a circular hole, which may or may not have been made by man, and dropping down a short distance through the hole one enters a cave, said to be as large as a cottage of considerable proportions, and divided in what looks like compartments, believed by residents of the section to have been the habitation of Indians or some other race of long ago.

It would also seem that an underground passage proceeds out of the cave, as water from a considerable territory is drained to the sink hole, though the hole never fills.

BOY SAVES CHUM'S
LIFE AT UVALDA; MEDAL SOUGHT

Uvalda, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—While a crowd of boys were in bathing at a swimming pool James Martin Moses, 11 years old, rescued Lonnie Smith, 15, after he had tumbled with him for some time, going down four times.

Congressman Larsen, of the twelfth district, has been asked to get a medal from congress for this young boy's reward.

ASSISTANT WAR
SECRETARY FLIES TO COLUMBUS, GA.

Columbus, Ga., June 27.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary of War Douglas Robinson arrived at Fort Benning aviation field yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by plane from Washington. The assistant secretary of the navy was met at the field by a number of officers. The secretary made the trip to visit a son who is ill with infantile paralysis. Mr. Robinson hopped off from Washington at 6 o'clock this morning.

COVINGTON MASONS
BUY MORE PROPERTY

Covington, Ga., June 27.—At the last meeting of Golden Fleece lodge, No. 6, F. & A. M., of Covington, it was voted to purchase from Mrs. Hugh Wright the corner now occupied by the E. H. Mobley department store on the northeast corner of the public square.

With this purchase the Masonic lodge of Covington becomes one of the largest holders of central business property in the city. As the lodge bought this property as an investment, no development plans are contemplated at the present time.

Child Bitten.

Valdosta, Ga., June 27.—Byron Moore, four-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Moore, is being treated for rabies as a result of being bitten a few days ago by a pet German police dog.

Examination of the dog's head brought the report that the animal was infected with rabies and treatment of the little fellow was immediately commenced.

Relieve Headache

Why shock your system with harsh laxatives and purgatives when it is most likely that your headache comes from a congested condition of the blood which can be corrected by this simple, harmless remedy?

Years ago, Dr. T. M. Stanback discovered that the majority of people want something to relieve headache quickly, without any bad after effects. So he developed this prescription which has been used by so many throughout the South that it has been called "The South's Standard Remedy." Physicians and dentists use it in their practice to relieve all kinds of pain—neuralgia, backache, toothache, and to check colds and "flu."

You'll be simply amazed at the speedy relief you'll get with Stanback Headache Powders. At the very first sign of headache or pain of any kind, go to your druggist. He'll recommend Stanback—and you will, too, after the first trial.

500 MEN FIGHT TO SAVE LEVEE

Memphis, Tenn., June 27.—(AP)—Five hundred men today fought to save the main White river levee at Postal Landing, a mile north of Georgetown, Ark., where water was reported seeping through the dyke and running over its lowest places.

Cotton Plant declared another holiday, closing all stores so that more men would be available at the danger point near Georgetown. About 150 were taken there on a Missouri and North Arkansas train, which continues to operate through to Heber Springs despite that it has to plow through three feet of water in some places.

The White this morning was 20 feet on the Georgetown gauge with crest expected late today.

Engineers said the levee south of upper Surrounding Hill is safe. The danger passed last night and conditions were considered so favorable today that the 200 laborers who have been stationed there for a week were removed to change the present method of changing the present method.

Continued dry weather has improved conditions along the White, and engineers expressed the belief that if they can hold the dikes the threat tomorrow morning the danger will pass unless heavy rains fall within the next 24 hours.

The upper St. Francis river began falling today at St. Francis, Ark., but showed a slight rise at Keokuk, Mo., where the crest will pass some time tomorrow. The threatened break in the dikes near St. Francis, where water ran around the ends of the levee, has been checked, preventing thousands of acres from overflow.

FLORIDA GAS TAX
MAY BE TURNED TO COUNTY BONDS

Ocala, Fla., June 27.—(AP)—A proposal to change the present method of levying a state tax upon gasoline so that a portion of the receipts from the levy would be used to reduce county road bonds was presented to the county commissioners association of Florida in semiannual session here today, but was held over for action tomorrow.

Other proposals, including one to cancel tax certificates and one to change the methods of taxing automobiles were also deferred until tomorrow's session. A plan for a four-year term for county commissioners was brought up, but was tabled until the next meeting. Ernest Amos, state comptroller, was the speaker of the opening session, going into the tax situation in the state and urging that the county commissioners aid in finding some measure for relief. The situation, he declared, is "critical."

HELD FOR RANSOM,
U. S. MINING MEN
WRITE TO FRIENDS

Mexico City, June 27.—(AP)—Dispatches from Guadalajara today said that W. M. Mitchell and John F. Hooper, American mining men who were recently kidnapped and held for ransom, had sent a letter to their relatives and friends saying they were being well treated.

Troops were continuing today to surround the El Salvador district in an effort to rescue the Americans. Fear was expressed, however, that the lives of the Americans would be endangered if the troops attempt to free them by force of arms.

HOOVER TO RESIGN
BEFORE JULY 15

Washington, June 27.—(AP)—Secretary Hoover's intention to resign his cabinet post shortly in order to leave himself free for the presidential campaign was formally announced today from the commerce department. The secretary expects to have the resignation in the hands of President Coolidge before July 15.

"Mr. Hoover is devoting himself entirely to closing up outstanding matters in the department," the statement said, "so that he can ask the president to be relieved from the secretaryship at some early date. He hoped to start west about the middle of July, calling upon the president en route."

He will deliver his acceptance speech in response to the notification of his nomination during the first week of August at Stanford university.

The statement as to Mr. Hoover's resignation was the first definite word upon the subject since he became the republican presidential candidate. He had only a few visitors today, but among them were included National Chairman Work and J. R. Nutt, treasurer of the republican national committee.

RIFLED MAIL BAGS' SEALS REMOVED,
DECLARE POLICE

Southampton, England, June 27.—(AP)—Microscopic examination of the seals of one of the rifled mail bags of the Levantham has confirmed police in the belief that the original seals were taken off and substituted impressions affixed by the thieves.

When the robbery, whose total may amount to $300,000 was first discovered, the British police were of the opinion that the mail bags had been ripped in the present method of shipping abroad. This belief was caused by the fact that the seals were apparently intact.

Later, however, Scotland Yard and local detectives swung to the theory that the robbery took place either on board the ship or during the transit of the mail from Southampton to London. While most of the seals at first appeared in good shape when they were first examined, bags of registered mail arriving in Belfast were found to have the seals mutilated and torn off.

The police reported that the imitation seals were made so cleverly that the difference from genuine ones could not be detected by ordinary inspection.

Quash Indictments
Against President
Of Chicago Land Bank

Toledo, Ohio, June 27.—(AP)—Indictments against Guy Huston, president of the Joint Stock Land Bank, Chicago, charged with having used the mails to defraud, were quashed today by Federal Judge Killis, who sustained a plea in abatement.

Mr. Huston had been indicted on 17 counts in connection with the sale of stock.

The court learned that Sylvester Rush, a Kansas City attorney, who appeared against Mr. Huston before the United States grand jury here, had no authority to act for the attorney general in this district, although he did have the power to act in Missouri.

LOUVAIN LIBRARY
PILLARS HOISTED
AFTER OUBREAKS

Louvain, Belgium, June 27.—(AP)—Under the protection of police and gendarmes and amid the cheers and hisses of rival sections of the populace, some of the pillars of a halustrade which Rector Ladeuze of the new Louvain library decided to have erected instead of the balcony designed by Whitney Warren, American architect, were hoisted to the roof of the structure this afternoon.

Previously 300 Louvain students and civilians, demonstrating in favor of the American architect, shattered to pieces some of the pillars, being finally driven off by the police.

Public excitement against Rector Ladeuze, who is opposing Mr. Warren's inscription containing the words "Destroyed by German fury" is steadily increasing.

Among a number of persons arrested and subsequently liberated was the French consul.

COVINGTON SCHOOL
FACULTY ANNOUNCED

Covington, Ga., June 27.—At the last meeting of the Covington board of education two teachers were elected to complete the faculty for the ensuing term of 1928-1929.

Miss Lois Sue Nix, who received her B. A. degree from the University of Georgia this week, has been elected to teach Latin and French. Mrs. Carl Wiegand, formerly Miss Lucy Wooten, of Covington, who has been teaching in the public schools of North Carolina, has been elected for the chair of history.

This completes the faculty for the Covington High school for the term of 1928-1929.

HOMERVILLE CENSUS
SHOWS 1,108 RESIDENTS

Waycross, Ga., June 27.—J. R. Pittman has completed a census of Homerville which shows a population of 1,108. Of these 723 are whites and 385 are negroes. The detailed classes of the census as to age, sex and other matters have not been announced.

Pennywise or Otherwise—
Which are you, my Dear?
Are you one of those who buys
With never any fear
Of paying more than you ought
For what you bought?

Or do you shop around to see—
A slow process—
If good style and quality
Can be had for less,
Arrive at home all ready to sink,
Too tired to think.

I'd advise your shopping here,
No matter what you'd like,
The price you'll find is never dear—
No cause for you to hike
All over town. We sell as low
As any store you know.

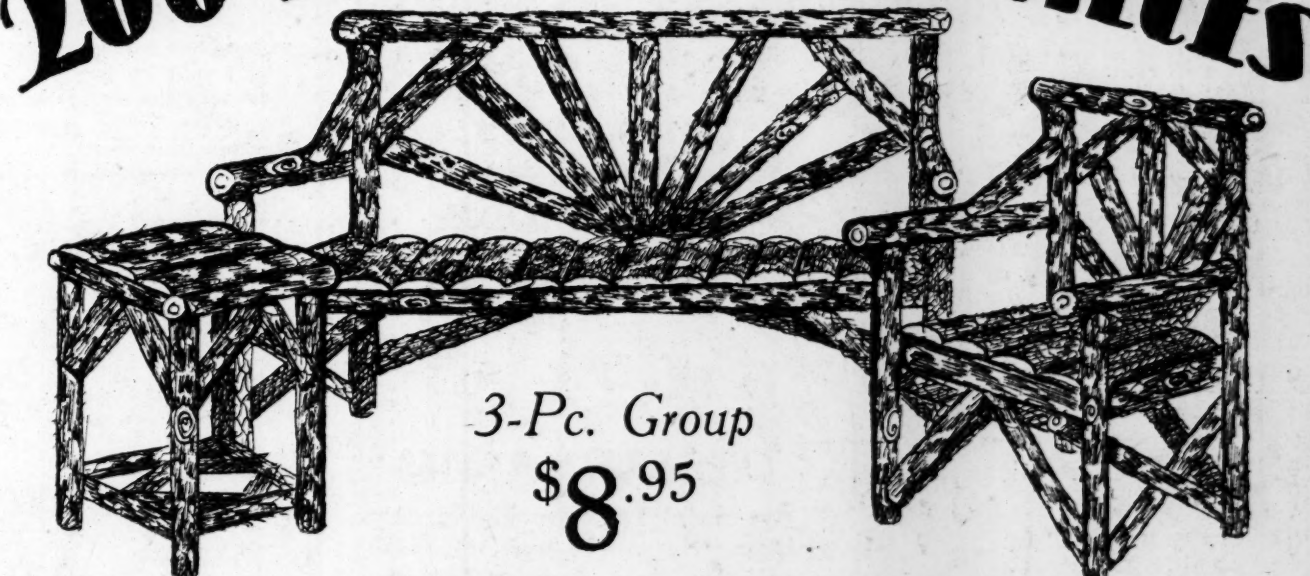

Not only "as low as any store you know," but frequently much lower. Come and see.

PARTY OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM.
The national democratic party stands by the federal constitution for religious freedom.

For this it went militantly and colorfully on record Wednesday.

The reference made to it, as to that effect, by Senator Robinson, permanent chairman of the Houston convention, practically at the conclusion of his acceptance address, started a roof-lifting demonstration, with the delegates of practically all of the states, including those of the south, with only two or three exceptions, joining with their standards in the great parade around the city.

Texas led the parade.

Georgia's standard was in the procession, though apparently following some dissenting but minority argument among the members of the delegation. There were other "arguments" but in only two or three of the 48 states.

The feature of the demonstration was that it was wholly spontaneous, that specific reference not having been incorporated in the printed address of the permanent chairman which had been released when he took the gavel from the temporary chairman.

Senator Robinson's address, while not the routine keynote of the party's principles, the enunciation of which was the function of the temporary chairman, and less dynamic than the Bowers battle cry, was a clear-cut, unmistakable call for party victory on the basis of party record.

He made the first direct reference to the prohibition issue, and forecast the platform on this great controversial problem.

He declared the party should not write into its code of principles a "wet" resolution, and that it should stand for rigid enforcement of law, fundamental and statutory.

"The democratic party is not a prohibition party, nor is it an anti-prohibition party," he shouted, "but it is a party that stands unflinchingly for law and order and for honesty in government, in high and low places, and for the rights of the people."

He dealt at length with the farm problem and declared the republican party's action toward this great basic industry to be one of shameful abuse, with an attempt to fool this overwhelming element of the American public with meaningless promises, and a further imposition of high tariff duties.

He took the position, which the Constitution has so vigorously espoused from time to time, that the farmer should not be required to pay the arbitrary prices of protected monopolies for his supplies while compelled to sell his commodities upon the open markets of the world.

He reiterated the merciless flaying, by the temporary chairman, of the republican party for its record of corruption and crime.

With vigorous denunciation of its attempt to deceive the public with its claims of widespread economic prosperity he quoted statistics verifying his claim that the nation, in all the branches of finance and industry and agriculture, was infinitely more prosperous to all the people during the Wilson administration of eight years than during either the Harding or Coolidge administrations since.

The address of Senator Robinson was a fitting supplement to the brilliant and forceful keynote of Claude G. Bowers, and the two will combine to make the "forward democracy" war cry between now and the close of the campaign at the November polls.

THE RESCUE OF NOBILE.
The world rejoices that General Umberto Nobile, the daring Italian explorer, who had circled the North Pole in the dirigible Italia, only to be subsequently wrecked against the ice peaks of the Arctic, has been rescued from the wastes of the trackless northland after 30 days of suffering, and lingering death.

It is the earnest prayer of millions of people that the others of the intrepid crew may also be saved. One group of the Nobile expedition has been so widely separated from the others by the breaking ice that the rescue of all may be impossible. It is like the daring Nobile to head the expedition that seeks to rescue his comrades.

It is sorrowing to an apprehensive world to know that Captain Roald Amundsen, one of the greatest explorers of all time, who was stranded in his search in the Arctic for the Nobile party, has not been located, as incorrectly reported. He has a party of five with him. It is hoped that this veteran of the white wastes, and those with him, may be restored to civilization and health. In the meantime let us hope that the North Pole may rest from further invasions—for the present and near future at least.

SMOKY PARK ASSURED.
It is gratifying that the $10,000,000 fund necessary for the purchase of 427,000 acres of land to comprise the proposed Great Smoky Mountain National park in Tennessee and North Carolina has been raised, and that work will shortly proceed definitely toward the physical development of the first recreational area of the nature in the eastern states. It will be recalled that $5,000,000 of the total was donated by the Laura Spelman Rockefeller memorial.

The national park service has announced that the funds in hand were thought to be enough to carry out the program laid down for the park by the federal government and the states. The land that is to be purchased has been blocked out and the states are preparing to acquire a title from the many individuals that own acreage in the area.

One tract of 76,000 acres has been purchased and 130 other tracts comprising but 14,000 acres has been acquired. It has been pointed out that some of the land will have to be obtained through condemnation proceedings but the governors of Tennessee and North Carolina assert that the laws are such that all the land wanted for the park can be acquired at satisfactory prices.

It will be several years naturally before the Smoky Mountain park will have reached the stage of development of Yellowstone or Yosemite or other parks of the west, but the movement is one that will mean so much to the south that in this instance at least patience will not cease to be a virtue.

The movement for a national park in the southern Appalachian was inaugurated by The Constitution in 1922. The proposal was carried direct to Secretary Work, of the department of the interior, and he showed hearty cooperation then and since to the end that now the preliminaries have almost been completed. It was necessary for the states to acquire the area as the federal government does not buy land for national park purposes.

NORTH DAKOTA REFERENDUM.
North Dakota voted Wednesday on prohibition. The referendum naturally aroused interest in that state's prior performance on this question. The state was admitted to the Union during the second prohibition wave in the United States, which occurred during the decade of the eighties. When the original constitution of the state was submitted to the voter for adoption there was also submitted separately a proposed prohibition clause. The prohibition clause was approved by the people by a vote of 48,552 to 17,393—51.6 per cent to 48.4 per cent—consequently, it became a part of the constitution. This vote was taken in 1889.

North Dakota has had statewide prohibition ever since by virtue of that constitutional clause. The state has had prohibition longer than any other state, excepting only Maine and Kansas. It is, accordingly, one of the three banner prohibition states.

In 1915 the legislature passed a concurrent resolution petitioning congress to provide national prohibition. At the same session the legislature also passed an act which greatly tightened up the statutory definition of the crime of bootlegging. This act went to the people on referendum in 1916 and they sustained it by a vote of 51,673 to 42,956—54.6 per cent to 45.4 per cent.

The North Dakota senate ratified the eighteenth amendment by a vote of 43 to 2, and the house by 96 to 10.

In January, 1923, the North Dakota senate without a dissenting vote and the house by a vote of 102 to 7 adopted a concurrent resolution memorializing congress to make no change which would weaken the Volstead act.

Meanwhile, the Canadian provinces to the north abandoned prohibition one by one by popular vote. And in 1926 North Dakota's neighbor to the west, Montana, repealed her state prohibition laws by popular vote. This and other developments germinated an anti-prohibition urge in North Dakota.

The women for the first time had on Wednesday an opportunity in North Dakota to cast a ballot on a prohibition question.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Leonides, the Beggar.

According to a message from Bucharest to the Observer, the police in Besarabia, have arrested Leonides, a well-known beggar in the town, who, as a cripple, was only foot and afflicted by a bad illness. Envious competitors, however, informed the police anonymously that he was only a humpback. So he was arrested and imprisoned, and his two dwelling places were searched. It was discovered that he was the head of a gang of thieves who had obeyed him blindly for years, burgling wealthy houses and plundering jewels. He never took any personal part in those expeditions, but he always organized the business in hand, and that with surprising cleverness. In order not to call attention to himself he posed as a beggar. It was found out that he owned four safes at various Bucharest banks. Those have been opened by the authorities, but it is doubtful if they contain more than a fraction of his booty, for some valuable treasures, including bonds and stocks estimated at $300,000 were discovered in a number of hiding places. In his house were found many safes and a museum full of treasures.

Passport Foolishness.
The strange case of the arrest at the Italian frontier of an Innsbruck student, Karl Schneider, has caused some excitement. On an excursion the young man climbed a mountain in the Zillertal Alps and entered the "Laudshut" hut, an object of some 8,000 feet above sea level. In that region of eternal snow and ice the frontier is drawn in a manner that makes it difficult to find the other part of the mountain. The student happened to transgress the Italian frontier within the house by just two yards, was arrested for being without a passport, with an Italian visa, and taken down to Brixen, where he was imprisoned. The Austrian government immediately communicated with the consul at Milan to inquire into the matter, and as a result of the consul's intervention the student was discharged by the Italian authorities. This occurrence followed hard on the arrest of the Austrian stoker at the station of the Brenner Pass. The stoker was imprisoned for a year.

Changing Egypt.
Al Azhar, perhaps the most famous university in the east, is soon to disappear as the controlling factor in the Islam world. It has been in existence 1,000 years, and to all Islamic peoples is known as the fountainhead of the giver of the light of education. The university is now without a rector, the Egyptian parliament having refused to elect a successor to the venerable head who spent his adult life within its walls. There is no grant of money to head the government intends to abolish the post altogether. More-over parliament is also considering changes in the status of the school of polygamy. This the heads of the Islamic faith and the learned doctors could never countenance. All Azhar struggles against what are considered perversions of the Koranic law, such as, for instance, the equality of women. It is with men, the abolition of traditions that have come down from the earliest years of Mohammedanism. But it protests in vain. "Modern Egypt," says one observer, "is restless, eager, insatiable, for modern ideas. Schoolboys clamor to wear hats. Women demand to wear the veil as Turkish women have done. Professional men trained in Britain, France or elsewhere in Europe, demand the abolition of the courts of the sacred law, and the modification of the penal code on the European model." NEW GOLF COURSE PUT UP TO HUDSON

Proposal to purchase land for a new 18-hole golf course for the Atlanta Athletic club was placed in the hands of President Scott Hudson by the members at a meeting held Wednesday night in the city club building. On the motion of Robert P. Jones, the president was given full authority to proceed with the purchase of land adjacent to the present course at East

Lake and the construction of a new course, providing he can come to satisfactory terms with the owners.

The land upon which the club holds options and which it is now considering lies directly west of the present course. It is made up of three pieces, the largest of which is 127 acres, and the other two are 7 acres, making a total of 40 acres, which will be available for construction of the proposed course. The new course will have 18 holes, more than ample for the laying out of a course which will equal the present splendid 18-hole links.

It is the club's hope that it will be another step in the expansion of the club, which has been going steadily forward for the past several years. Should any of the above mentioned plans be carried out, it would make East Lake one of the largest as well as one of the finest

ROBINSON UPHOLDS RECORDS OF DEMOCRACY'S SONS

NEW CHAIRMAN OPPOSES ADOPTION OF LIQUOR PLANK

Farm Relief Is Urged in Acceptance Address; Statement on Religious Tolerance Starts Riot.

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(P)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, assailed the republican administration of the last seven years, warned against inclusion of a "wet" plank in the democratic platform, and made a bid for farm support in his speech accepting the permanent chairmanship of the democratic national convention here Wednesday.

The text is as follows: "The responsibility as well as the honor associated with the chairmanship of this convention is fully recognized. The obligation to serve with patience and impartiality is readily acknowledged. Seldom, if ever, have the representatives of the national democratic party gathered under more impressive conditions. We face a notable political crisis. The exercise of sound judgment and common sense in the nomination of candidates and the demonstration of fidelity to recognized party principles constitute a sane way to harmonize our differences and are essential to success in the approaching campaign."

Jefferson's Advice. "The democratic party has a mission which has not materially changed since the days of Jefferson. The necessity for political reform is greater now than ever before. Our party, from its birth, has safeguarded the rights of the masses. It has championed personal liberty and opposed centralization. Jefferson sought to protect the unselfish against the employment of laws and government agencies for private profit."

"Jefferson gloried in the Virginia statute of religious liberty. He rejoiced in the provision of the constitution that declares that no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification for any office of trust in the United States." The Smith parade with its flaming consequences started during the cheering that greeted this pronouncement and did not end for ten minutes. Afterwards, without apparent effect, the convention went through some routine business and recessed until 7:15 p. m., when nominating speeches probably will be heard.

Ever for Justice to All.

Jackson aroused the public to the menace of plutocracy. Cleveland voiced resentment at the abuse of the taxing power to enrich favored groups by the exploitation of the masses. Wilson defined anew the democratic ideals of justice and equality. Since its formation the democratic party has labored to establish the doctrine that the fundamental function of government is to secure equality of rights and opportunities for all citizens.

In this campaign the republicans cunningly seek to raise false issues through which to win their way back into public favor.

The national administration during the last seven years is indefensible from any standpoint. For corruption and inefficiency it is unparalleled by the disgraced prostration of power in states dominated by the republican party. The assertion of our opponents that the democratic party cannot be trusted to promote sound business is totally false. The democratic party has at no time interfered with lawful enterprises. It is the defender of legitimate business. What other period since our government was established compares favorably with the eight years of the Wilson administration? The boldest champion of the opposition cannot recall another time when prosperous and more general. Tested by the usual profits, we find those eight years among the most glorious in all our country's history. Labor was profitably employed; industry operated full time; agriculture was on an equality with other business.

The prosperity of the present by no means equals that under democratic control.

G. O. P. Boasts Empty.

The facts of the whole do not justify the boast in the Kansas City platform. The secretary of the treasury admits in his annual report for 1927 that conditions during that year were worse than in 1926. The President's industrial conference board asserts that business prosperity in the United States is confined to giant corporations. The bu-

Top—North Carolina delegation photographed on arrival at Houston. Wednesday the North Carolinians figured in a fight on the convention floor. When Smith delegation started an ovation during Senator Robinson's speech they attempted to snatch the North Carolina standard to use in their march; this was resisted and a fight ensued during which the standard was broken, and it required stern action by police to quell the fight.

rean of foreign and domestic commerce examined 100,000 consulars in 1927 and reported 34,000 of them earning no profits whatever.

The commissioner of internal revenue states that only three-fifths of the corporations manufacturing leather products reported net incomes for 1925.

The record of commercial and bank failures reflects the falsity of this claim of exceptional prosperity.

In 1910 only 50 state banks and four national banks failed with aggregate liabilities of less than $12,000,000. In 1925 361 state banks and 103 national banks with total liabilities of $175,000,000 passed into receivership. Note the figures for 1926: Seven hundred and seventy-two state banks failed with liabilities of $266,000,000. The data for 1927 is incomplete, but it shows total liabilities of state banks which became insolvent during that year in excess of $200,000,000.

What are the facts with respect to commercial failures? There were 29 per cent more in 1927 than in the previous year.

Farmer Suffered Heavily. Annual farm products decreased more than $1,500,000,000 comparing 1924 with 1927.

The Bureau of Labor statistics reveal a 20 per cent decrease now in employment over 1927.

The depressed condition of agriculture is of common knowledge. This, the greatest of all industries, has been steadily declining since the republicans initiated its policy of deflation in 1921. Every one knows that agriculture has been going backward since Wilson's administration ended. Never before has there existed such discontent among farm producers. They attribute their distressed condition to the policies of the republican party. Why should farmers be compelled to sell their products in the open markets of the world and to let their prices be fixed by the whims of a few speculators? The importance of the fact is emphasized by the repeated refusal of the republican party to grant substantial relief. The farmers of the nation are awake to the issue. They are ready, if afforded the opportunity, to safeguard their own interest through political action. The republican party has betrayed the farmers of the United States and now seeks to deceive them with new false promises. The only specific measure for farm relief pledged by the Kansas City platform is increased tariff duties which experience shows cannot be effective.

The economic equality of agriculture with other industries may be promoted by reducing the tariff on manufactured articles consumed by farmers; by a system of export duties; or by the adoption of the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill. Such equality can never be established by merely raising the tariff on imports of products which are grown in substantial surplus above domestic requirements.

Invitation to Growers. This convention should invite support from farmers by declaring adherence to these principles. The mingled stupidity and audacity which prompted the Kansas City convention to boast a prosperity enjoyed by insolvent banks, bankrupt farmers and merchants, and by millions of unemployed laborers, invites decisive political revolution. The farmers of the west and of the middle west will not support Mr. Hoover. He has led the force opposed to the McNary-Haugen bill and challenged its advocates.

The false pretense underlying the republican claim of unusual nationwide prosperity is more fully made apparent when it is disclosed that every financial panic the country has experienced has occurred while the republican party was in power. In 1850 when "Black Friday" cast its pall over the nation's business, the republican party was in control of every branch of the government. The panic of 1873 culminating in the hardest times the American people ever went through came during the administration of Presidents Grant and Hayes. The election of Grover Cleveland in 1884 resulted from a political revision induced by the distress in every sphere of business. The panic of 1892 originated during President Harrison's administration, and was a prominent factor in the second election of Mr. Cleveland.

Disaster After G. O. P. Reign. When the financial disaster of 1907 took place, the republican party had been in full power throughout the 10 preceding years. Millions were thrown out of work, bread lines were formed and soup houses established in every city in the United States.

Does a fair survey justify the claim that the country has been so prosperous under Presidents Harding and Coolidge that it would invite adversity to change control next November? To ask the question is to answer it. Government property certainly will be safer with the democrats in power. There will be no danger of its being stolen!

Mr. Rowers in his notable address to the convention has described the corruption which has disgraced the executive departments during the present and preceding administrations. Such a saturnalia of crime and fraud never before was witnessed. Honest government in the public interest is an issue which the democratic party is entitled to make.

Under President Wilson our party administered the nation's affairs, and expended more than $30,000,000,000 during the World War. We kept the record clean. The worst that can be said is that the emergency, which involved the safety of our country and its institutions, caused expenditures which subsequent events have shown to be extravagant. Not an instance of official dishonesty of sufficient consequence to justify the nearest mention of the republican party to power, March 4, 1921, organized plunderers took control of the departments of justice and interior, of the alien property custodian's office and of the Veterans' bureau, and unmasked graft took toll in millions of the public treasure.

Confusion Abroad Charged. The bombastic boasts of the chairman of the Kansas City convention and the stupefying verbosity and reckless perversions of the republican platform prompt the declaration that both the foreign and domestic policies of the Harding and Coolidge administrations are characterized by confusion and inconsistency—the confusion resulting from ignorance; the inconsistency arising from moral irresponsibility. How otherwise account for the agreement not to fortify our possessions in the Pacific; for the destruction of new battleships and the immediate building of inferior vessels. In what other way can we explain the preaching of peace while waging war in Nicaragua; the whitewashing of corruption in high places; the condemnation of the republicans for the party machinery to the beneficiaries of corrupt bargains with faithless cabinet officers?

President Wilson's foreign policy was decisive. It commanded respect for the United States throughout the world. It pledged cooperation with other powers in the promotion of international peace and in the avoidance of war.

Who can comprehend, who can define the foreign policy of the Harding and Coolidge administrations? What is the position now of our country in the opinion of mankind? What is the attitude of the United States with respect to great international problems? Our government is unpopular. Our flag is regarded with suspicion and contempt. Nothing has been done, little is proposed, that is calculated to invite the confidence and respect of other peoples. The policy has been hesitant, blundering and futile. In Wilson's time the United States held the leadership of the world on all highways of human progress. Prompted by the ignorance and malice of those enjoying his confidence, President Harding abandoned this leadership, and President Coolidge does not choose to attempt its resumption.

There are too many subjects of vital interest on which democrats agree to justify breaking up these have always been differences of opinion.

Warning on Prohibition. Those who urge that our platform should assuage the passions of the moment and the laws for its execution, should be reminded that prohibition has not heretofore been made a partisan issue.

Prompted by a desire to promote harmony and concert of action, it is suggested that no wet plank be inserted in our platform. It is true that the democratic party is not a prohibition party. Neither is it an anti-prohibition party. Democrats have always divided on the problem of prohibition. Many sincerely advocate prohibition as an economic and moral measure. Others believing that its tendency is to encourage lawlessness, advocate substantial changes in the constitution and laws. The fear of our democratic ideals, which we think is that the democratic party to a "wet" platform has alarmed many southern democrats who favor the continuance of prohibition because of the evidence of its economic and moral value in the progress of the south.

To ignore the practical political aspect of this question is to invite and encourage division in our ranks, and to submerge these fundamental issues for which we can unite and labor in concert. Let it be remembered as the congress is now constituted, and as it will be composed for many years, there exists no likelihood of repeal or nullification of the eighteenth amendment. The only important practical result to be expected from a wet platform is that it may drive out of the party many who favor prohibition and are unwilling to yield their views upon the subject.

United Against Corruption. Democrats are united for the destruction of corruption and for the promotion of honesty in government affairs. We are united in purpose to enforce in good faith the constitution and laws; to protect honest business enterprises against the unfair and oppressive methods of monopolies; to assure relief, too long delayed, to the great agricultural interests of the nation to which the republican party has brought bankruptcy and ruin.

Respecting these important subjects there need be no division of sentiment among democrats. We of the south are happy to have a national democratic convention assemble in this typically southern city. It has often been said that democrats in convention can be relied upon to offset the blunders and to heal the self-inflicted wounds of the republican party. Let us disappoint the expectation of our adversaries and realize the hopes of faithful democrats throughout the nation who look to us for the exercise of prudence and wisdom. We must demonstrate willingness to enter into honorable compromises and to make personal sacrifices; otherwise the opportunity which is imminent—the opportunity for victory—will be wasted.

HOUSTON PASTOR OPENS CONVENTION AT NIGHT SESSION

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(P)—The Rt. Rev. Monsignor G. T. Walsh of the Church of the Annunciation, Houston, delivered the invocation at the night session of the democratic national convention tonight. The prayer follows:

"Oh, God, we are assembled tonight in Thy name, we want to be the upholders of those democratic principles which are near and dear to the hearts of the masses."

"We beg Thee give us the wisdom to see Thy gracious purpose in the workings and deliberations of this convention."

"Bless us, that we may have the light to choose what is right and best for all concerned."

"May our deliberations tend to the preservation of peace, the removing of the burdens weighing on the poor and the promotion of national happiness."

TEXT OF PRAYER AT CONVENTION

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(P)—

Rev. George Gilmour, pastor of the First Unitarian church, Denver, Colo., was selected to pronounce the invocation that opened the third session of the democratic national convention.

His prayer follows: "Bowing in the presence of the Infinite Spirit, we reaffirm our belief in a republic of righteousness, in loyalty to truth, to justice and to the daily needs of our fellow beings."

"From this convention with its great possibilities for America and the world may there resound through the nation an incorruptible integrity, a more sacred regard for right. That most democratic of all men, the Man of Nazareth, esteemed His followers in proportion as they had the courage to act their convictions, if they were connected with the promotion of a more abundant life for the great multitude of mankind."

"He judged issues by their soundness. With Him prosperity was a fuller life for all. It was a greater good not to swell the temporal fortunes of the few, but like the rain that falls on the just and unjust, to be the blessing of good to all His creatures."

"Reconstruction of the political ideals of our beloved country is the great need of our day; may that divine instinct of all thoughts glow in our minds and hearts; that we are linked together by the laws of existence, by contact and interdependence in order that no part of humanity might go on and leave a large part of the rank that promotes human happiness; concentration of all powers in living for a nobler humanization of man and his world. As we gaze at the sacred light of our democratic ideals, we think of the bright holy life to which we are called. In this sacred light we would remember continuously and considerately that life also has a wintry aspect for thousands. By letting our light shine in and after this convention, with sublime moral qualities glowing in our political conduct, living, moving and having our being in them, we can bring the springtime of hope to countless numbers of our fellow countrymen."

"May we go forth from this convention in the hardy spirit of our forefathers—that we may further establish and complete their work—in which government shall be of the people, wisely directed by the people and in the interest of the numerous families of America, to secure the blessings of freedom to ourselves and our posterity."

"So may the prayer of our hearts be acceptable unto Thee and come out in our daily life as the lilies and as lasting as the stars."

Women Demand Prohibition, Child Labor and Peace Planks

BY MARY BAINBRIDGE HAYDEN.

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Houston, June 27.—(P)—With strengthened numbers outside Sam Houston hall and with members representing them within the delegate ranks, organized women threw themselves today into the platform fight, adding to their reannunciation of war and child labor appeals a summons for all nominees favoring dry law enforcement to define clearly what steps are practicable and possible to that end.

Two newly arrived women's organizations, the Women's Democratic Union of New York, and the American Women's Union, of St. Louis, entered the Houston lists today to supplement the League of Women Voters, the National Women's Party and the National Women's Committee for Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

No Party Issue. A new aspect of the prohibition issue was brought out in the platform of 14 planks submitted by the New York women through their spokesmen, Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, both delegates at large from New York, and by Mrs. J. Horien Harriman, national committeewoman from the District of Columbia.

On the convention floor today, women of Mississippi and North Carolina essayed to take an active part in the religious liberty demonstrations, but melted rapidly away when the fist-cuffs began.

On the platform, after sticking to her guns nearly all night in her losing Louisiana contest, Mrs. Genevieve Clark Thomson was on hand, fresh and smiling, to listen to the convention's adverse vote and declare calmly that she had "been accorded a full fair hearing by the party" in a fight that "was not anti-Smith, but a local misuse of political machinery."

War Renounced. Renunciation of war and adherence to the world court, and the League of Nations, were also urged by the New York Women's Union, who further recommended "co-operative relations with Latin America."

Women's and children's protective legislation, the League of Women Voters' demand, which is opposed by the National Women's Party, was supported by four of the New York women's planks. One, demanding a child labor amendment to the constitution, was submitted by the American Federation of Labor. Others urged extension of the federal anti provisions of the Sheppard-Towner maternity and infancy act, expiring in 1929, and "a maximum work week of 48 hours" with adequate compensation for the women's and children's bureaus, and bureau of labor statistics.

Women Divided. "We are diametrically opposed to the point of view of the national women's party," said Mrs. Morgenthau, commenting on the party's plea for an equal rights amendment, submitted to the resolution committee by Miss Sue White, a Jackson, Tenn., lawyer.

"We believe that women need protective legislation, men have already won theirs through their stronger union organization."

Government operation of Muscle Shoals, specifically endorsed by the National League of Women Voters, who were opposed by both the New York and Missouri organizations.

A federal department of education, endorsed by the New York women and the National Education association, was opposed in the Missouri group's planks.

Farm Relief Asked. Recommendations for farm relief, as well as for prison reform and immigration restriction "on a non-racial basis," were made by the New York women, who are represented on the convention floor by Mrs. Morgenthau and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, both delegates at large from New York, and by Mrs. J. Horien Harriman, national committeewoman from the District of Columbia.

A federal department of education, endorsed by the New York women and the National Education association, was opposed in the Missouri group's planks.

Farm Relief Asked. Recommendations for farm relief, as well as for prison reform and immigration restriction "on a non-racial basis," were made by the New York women, who are represented on the convention floor by Mrs. Morgenthau and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, both delegates at large from New York, and by Mrs. J. Horien Harriman, national committeewoman from the District of Columbia.

On the convention floor today, women of Mississippi and North Carolina essayed to take an active part in the religious liberty demonstrations, but melted rapidly away when the fist-cuffs began.

On the platform, after sticking to her guns nearly all night in her losing Louisiana contest, Mrs. Genevieve Clark Thomson was on hand, fresh and smiling, to listen to the convention's adverse vote and declare calmly that she had "been accorded a full fair hearing by the party" in a fight that "was not anti-Smith, but a local misuse of political machinery."

War Renounced. Renunciation of war and adherence to the world court, and the League of Nations, were also urged by the New York Women's Union, who further recommended "co-operative relations with Latin America."

Women's and children's protective legislation, the League of Women Voters' demand, which is opposed by the National Women's Party, was supported by four of the New York women's planks. One, demanding a child labor amendment to the constitution, was submitted by the American Federation of Labor. Others urged extension of the federal anti provisions of the Sheppard-Towner maternity and infancy act, expiring in 1929, and "a maximum work week of 48 hours" with adequate compensation for the women's and children's bureaus, and bureau of labor statistics.

Women Divided. "We are diametrically opposed to the point of view of the national women's party," said Mrs. Morgenthau, commenting on the party's plea for an equal rights amendment, submitted to the resolution committee by Miss Sue White, a Jackson, Tenn., lawyer.

"We believe that women need protective legislation, men have already won theirs through their stronger union organization."

Government operation of Muscle Shoals, specifically endorsed by the National League of Women Voters, who were opposed by both the New York and Missouri organizations.

GEORGE IS READY TO LEAD DRY FIGHT

BY O. S. MORTON.

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(P)—Senator Walter F. George is in the presidential race to stay until a candidate is nominated and will not hesitate to take the floor with the Georgia delegation and fight for defeat of any attempt "to convert the party into an anti-prohibition party."

The senator made this declaration in a statement late today which followed closely on intense activity of the Georgia division in the southern dry bloc. The statement served to show the convention definitely that Georgia has no second choice for president and there will be no switch of votes.

Senator George's statement follows: "My name will remain before the convention until a candidate for president has been nominated. I have from the very first insisted that prohibition should not be made a single issue before the convention. I have, nevertheless, declared my unalterable opposition to the committee of the party to a wet program. If in view of developments an effort is made to convert the party into an anti-prohibition party, I shall not hesitate to take my place on the Georgia delegation and give active assistance to its defeat."

prohibition party. Neither is it an anti-prohibition party. Democrats have always divided on the problem of prohibition. Many sincerely advocate prohibition as an economic and moral measure. Others believing that its tendency is to encourage lawlessness, advocate substantial changes in the constitution and laws. The fear of our democratic ideals, which we think is that the democratic party to a "wet" platform has alarmed many southern democrats who favor the continuance of prohibition because of the evidence of its economic and moral value in the progress of the south.

To ignore the practical political aspect of this question is to invite and encourage division in our ranks, and to submerge these fundamental issues for which we can unite and labor in concert. Let it be remembered as the congress is now constituted, and as it will be composed for many years, there exists no likelihood of repeal or nullification of the eighteenth amendment. The only important practical result to be expected from a wet platform is that it may drive out of the party many who favor prohibition and are unwilling to yield their views upon the subject.

United Against Corruption. Democrats are united for the destruction of corruption and for the promotion of honesty in government affairs. We are united in purpose to enforce in good faith the constitution and laws; to protect honest business enterprises against the unfair and oppressive methods of monopolies; to assure relief, too long delayed, to the great agricultural interests of the nation to which the republican party has brought bankruptcy and ruin.

Respecting these important subjects there need be no division of sentiment among democrats. We of the south are happy to have a national democratic convention assemble in this typically southern city. It has often been said that democrats in convention can be relied upon to offset the blunders and to heal the self-inflicted wounds of the republican party. Let us disappoint the expectation of our adversaries and realize the hopes of faithful democrats throughout the nation who look to us for the exercise of prudence and wisdom. We must demonstrate willingness to enter into honorable compromises and to make personal sacrifices; otherwise the opportunity which is imminent—the opportunity for victory—will be wasted.

HOUSTON PASTOR OPENS CONVENTION AT NIGHT SESSION

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(P)—The Rt. Rev. Monsignor G. T. Walsh of the Church of the Annunciation, Houston, delivered the invocation at the night session of the democratic national convention tonight. The prayer follows:

REED MAY MAKE ELOQUENT PLEA FOR SUPPORT OF SMITH

ROBINSON LIKELY RUNNING MATE

Woollen, of Indiana, Only Other Candidate With Any Chance of Aiding in Doubtful States.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.
Houston, June 27.—(Special.)—The appropriateness which from the beginning kept Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, to the front in the vice presidential race, lay chiefly in his relation to the south.

It would be the one conspicuous tender to the south of a presidential or vice presidential nomination by either party since the civil war. As such this proffer by the forces controlling the convention is part of the spirit of extreme courtesy with which Tammany has conducted itself throughout.

It would probably be unfair to interpret the favor shown to Robinson as merely a recognition by the Smith forces of the need of help to carry the south. That fear will be widely made, but it would be equally fair at least to say that Smith and his friends are merely being tolerant to the section that fought him hard four years ago and is now a completely defeated foe.

Happy Choice.
If the ticket needs any aid to carry the south, Robinson would be a happy choice from among the south's public men. It may be forgotten by many now, but in the senate a few months ago, Robinson's spontaneous rebuke to Heflin was a plea for tolerance so able and strong as to be an applauded sensation.

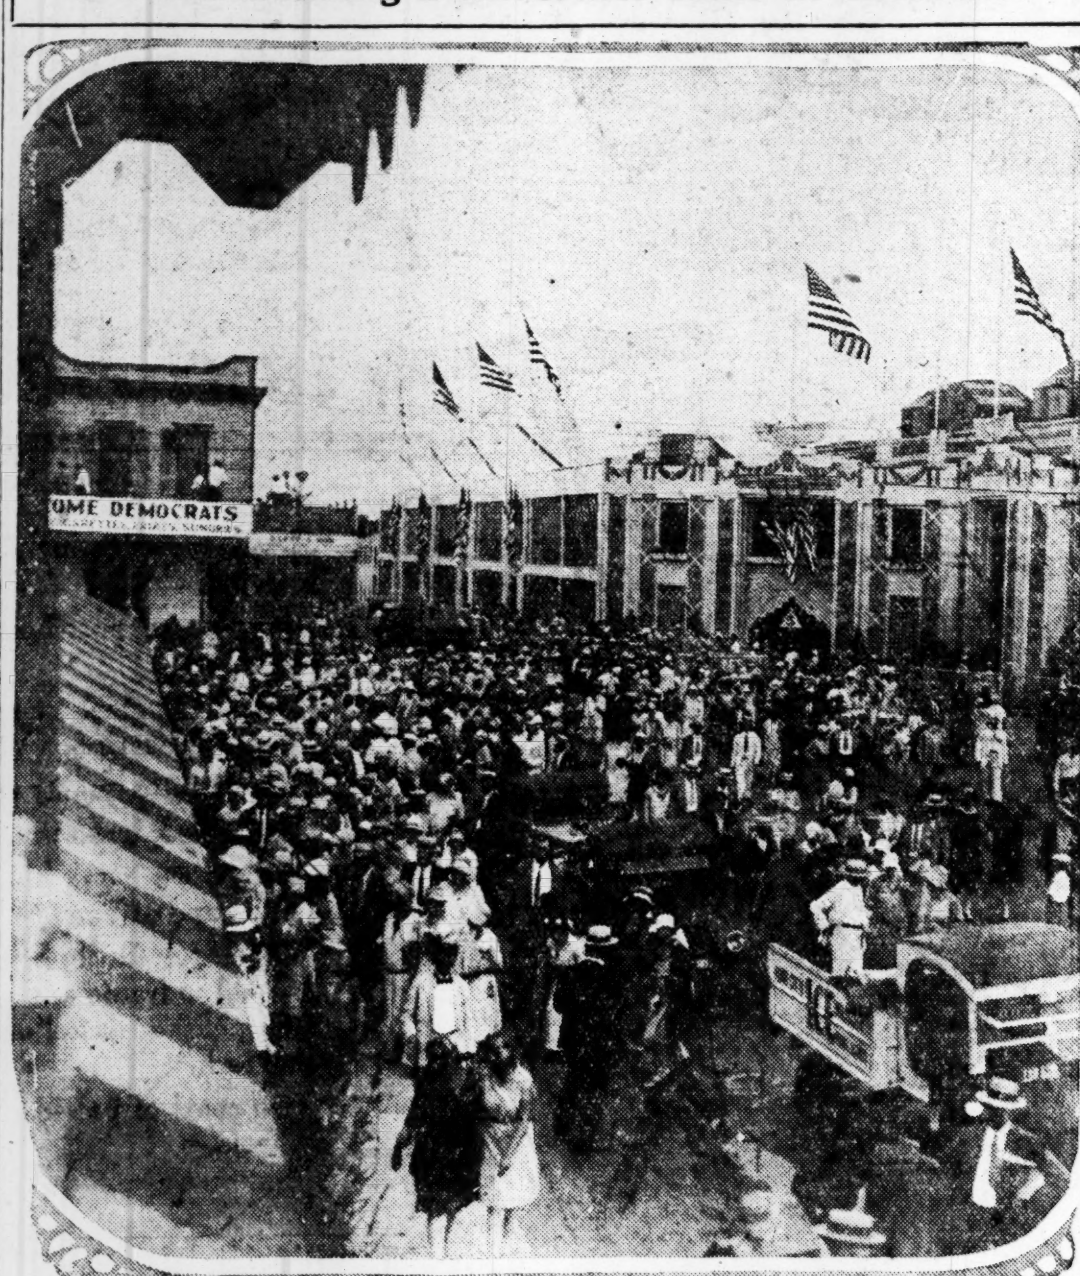

Arkansas Is Secure.
With Robinson on the ticket, however, Arkansas is secure to the democrats. Robinson would be a help in carrying his neighboring state of Missouri which will be in doubt because Senator Reed's friends there will be aware of his feeling that the nomination of a Tammany candidate for president is a mistake. Robinson is also looked upon as able to help carry another neighbor state, Oklahoma. There is little on that, however.

With Curtis on the republican ticket Oklahoma is easily safe for that party. Next to Robinson, the two men who have had a good chance for the vice presidential nomination have been Woollen, of Indiana, and ex-Senator Heflin, of Nebraska. There is still a group of leaders who think that Robinson's nomination as a gesture of courtesy to the south is unneeded and superfluous. They think the more practical course would be to make a direct bid for the support of farm republicans in the midwest. Woollen, of Indiana, would give some promise of carrying his own state, though the fact is that as a candidate for the senate he failed to carry it a few years ago.

Hitchcock Is Logical.
Hitchcock, of Nebraska, is the clearly logical choice and will remain so whether he is actually chosen or not. Nebraska is certain to be a doubtful state in the election and Hitchcock would make it reasonably sure for the democrats.

Hitchcock has a position on farm relief which would make him satisfactory to the farmer vote. Hitchcock is the owner of a strong and able newspaper which has the confidence of the farm territory to an unusual degree. Hitchcock opposed the prohibition amendment and the Vol-

M'GILL NOMINATES AYERS, OF KANSAS

Houston, June 27.—(United News.) George McGill, of Wichita, Kan., in nominating Representative William A. Ayers, of Kansas, said in part: "The man we propose is one of the most outstanding democrats of the day—he is a man of such extraordinary ability, statesmanship and integrity as to measure up to the highest position within the gift of the American people."

"Four years ago in the pre-convention campaign he was recommended as presidential timber by the late great leader of democracy, W. J. Bryan, and his numerous publications and men of note. People of all classes of the eighth Kansas congressional district have demonstrated their faith in William A. Ayers by electing him to the national congress six times with unbroken unanimity. He is a man of the people and the people of Kansas are solidly behind him for president."

Sidelights and Highlights Under Houston Spotlights

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The convention is on, but all convention has departed in some respects. Dripping delegates make the grade from the convention hall back the tortuous path to their hotel rooms, order ginger ale or ice water and wait an hour. And while they wait they open their room door for the breeze, invite all their political friends in, and start talking. First come off the coats if any have been left on, then come in, if any Houston victor still retains that garment. And then come shirts.

A perfect little lady walking through the hotel corridors is torn between her very natural curiosity to look in every open door and her sure knowledge that she will be shocked by the array of disheveled masculinity sprawled in every chair, on the floor, and all over the bed.

But it's a convention and anything is all right.

Combatants for the standards of North Carolina and Alabama in the heated fracas on the convention floor today found time between bids to give their names to newspapermen crowding around.

Hardly was a fist raised by a newcomer before he was interrupted by a Houston, Texas, June 27.—(United News.)—Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, in seconding the nomination of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, said in part:

"How rare is our good fortune that there is available to us, one whose invariable integrity and pre-eminent ability have been so conspicuously demonstrated that he towers like a colossus among all the statesmen of his generation."

How fortunate are we, too, that combined with intrinsic worth, he possesses another qualification of like importance, and that is vote-getting strength—for, he it remembered that though our candidate is endowed with all the ability and nobility known to manhood and all the ornamental attributes too, if he could not in an exceptional degree command the votes of the electorate, he would be useless for our purposes as a candidate.

"The secret of his hold upon the confidence and affections of the people of New York, those of all classes and parties is the absolute sincerity that has characterized his twenty years of public service, sincerity of purpose, speech and conduct."

"I am confident that solidarity of purpose and effort on the part of democrats combined with the available support of the independent voters, will advance this consummation that we all devoutly wish."

Therefore, I embrace the privilege accorded me, and in the name of the progressive democrats of Wyoming I richly deserve the highest honor at the hands of his party, and of the nation—the honorable Alfred Emanuel Smith, governor of the state of New York."

80 POLICE GUARD CONVENTION HALL TO PREVENT RIOTS
Convention Hall, Houston, June 27.—(United News.)—Assistant Chief of Police Kuykendall had 80 officers stationed in convention hall tonight, prepared for any emergency.

Kuykendall increased his staff by 20 as a result of the row among some southern delegations today. He ordered a half dozen of his "finest" to take stations before the speakers' platform ready to separate any quarreling delegates.

WITH SMITH BAND WAGON ALL LOADED OTHERS CLIMB ON

Over 700 Votes Pledged to Smith on First Ballot and Many Go to Him on Second.

BY PAUL F. HAUPERT.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Houston, Texas, June 27.—(AP)—Enough convention votes are pledged definitely to Governor Smith to bring about his nomination, probably on the first ballot.

Although given a jolt today when the Oklahoma delegation swung as a unit to Reed of Missouri, the New Yorker picked up more than enough votes from Ohio to put him over.

In addition, some of the Kansas delegates, pledged to Ayres, showed signs of restlessness and there were predictions that they would hop into the Smith camp before completion of the first roll call, expected tomorrow night.

The Ohio and Oklahoma delegations held caucuses during the day. The Buckeye state delegates instructed their chairman, Claude Meeker, of Columbus, to transfer all votes except those definitely anti-Smith to the New York governor at any time during the balloting. The plan to transfer all votes to Smith was announced. At least 40 of the 48 Ohio votes went to Smith.

Over 700 Pledged.
Outside Ohio the votes definitely pledged to the New York executive total 700. Unless there are unexpected shifts 20 votes from Ohio would bring him above the 723 2/3, or thirds needed to nominate. Smith's friends figure that by the time the balloting gets under way, more than those from Ohio will settle the issue.

Four ballots were required at the Oklahoma delegation caucus to settle the first roll call line-up in convention. It was a pro-Smith anti-Smith showdown with a coalition finally naming out the Smith forces.

In caucus Smith mustered 71 1/2 of the 80 votes on the first ballot, getting 41 1/2, Hull, of Tennessee, 4; Donahoe, of Ohio, 11 1/2; and Robinson, of Montana, and George Smith, of Illinois, each 2 1/2. On the second ballot, Smith had 77, Hull 7 1/2 and Reed 5 1/2 and on the third it was Smith 87, Hull 7 1/2 and Reed 5 1/2. An agreement had been reached to drop the low man and with Hull eliminated Reed received 10 1/2 and Smith 91 1/2, the delegation going to the Missouriian who has refused to concede defeat.

Lineup May Be Changed.
Before calling it a day the delegation decided that after the first convention roll call, if there is more than one man who could demand and other roll call and the lineup would be changed if a majority was so minded.

Victory in the Oklahoma scrap assured Reed on the first ballot, the solid support of two delegations at least—Missouri and Oklahoma. In addition, following the vote, Reed received 10 1/2 and Smith 91 1/2, the delegation going to the Missouriian who has refused to concede defeat.

Despite the indication from some of the Kansas delegates that they want to board a Smith band wagon, the Reed managers have not abandoned hope of getting a batch of votes from that state. Agitation for a shift to Smith without delay seems to grow out of the publication here tonight of a dispatch quoting Representative Ayres, who never was very keen about becoming a favorite son candidate, as saying that he would support a strong race by him as the nominee.

Donald Muir, chairman of the Kansas delegation, said he would not be placed in formal nomination, although it has been decided in caucus to have his name presented and to place him in the delegation's solid support on the first ballot. Muir predicted that many of the Kansas votes would go to Smith.

HOUSTON WARM 24 HOURS DAILY, DELEGATES FIND

Houston, June 27.—(AP)—Houston's democratic conclave is eclipsing that held at New York four years ago in point of atmospheric heat.

With a temperature of 91 on the thermometer at the time of the third session on its second day, Houstonians are claiming credit for having a lower minimum temperature than prevailed at New York in 1924, although the maximum here exceeded New York's first day heat by eight degrees.

Convention delegates and visitors sweltered again today at the third session of the convention with the mercury touching 90. As recess was taken on the temperature receded to 87 due to a thunderstorm southeast of the city, but it again began to climb and proceeded to 90 by 4 p. m., with indications of holding or even going slightly higher for the fourth session during the evening.

Prospect for more bearable weather was not foreseen tonight by Forecaster H. J. Dainfield, who said cloudy weather would prevail for the fifth session Thursday with the probability of local thundershowers. Little change of temperature is in sight.

Bogan To Succeed McAndrew as Head Of Chicago School

Chicago, June 27.—(AP)—Chicago morning papers today said William McAndrew's successor as superintendent of Chicago's public schools will be William J. Bogan, assistant superintendent. The appointment was to be announced today, the papers said, and the term of office will be five years.

McAndrew was suspended on charges on insubordination and fostering pro-Britishism.

Attempts To Grab State Standards Start Fights At Democratic Parley

BY JAMES L. WILLIAMS.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Houston, June 27.—(AP)—On edge from a session which saw a riotous quarter of an hour over the question of religious equality, the democratic national convention tonight approached its final decisions in an atmosphere of distinct tension.

During the day it had seen almost half a dozen fist fights on the floor, during which policemen used their sticks to quell battles over state standards. It returned to Sam Houston hall tonight to listen to the fiery nominating speeches, always inflammable among high-strung men.

A brief reference to the position of Thomas Jefferson on the religious question, and a quotation of the religious liberty clause of the constitution, interpolated into the prepared address of Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, the permanent chairman, sent the Smith forces into a wild burst of enthusiasm at today's session, which started as a parade and which ended with furious fighting among groups within the hall.

Jefferson Quotation.
Robinson had said: "Jefferson gloried in the Virginia statute of religious liberty. He rejoiced in the position of the constitution that declares that no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification for any office of trust in the United States."

This was enough for the supporters of Governor Smith, who is a Catholic. A shrill cry went up, then another, and finally with a rush, the aisles were filled with prancing, shouting men, holding aloft the heavy wooden signs bearing the insignia of their delegations.

Standards Guarded.
One march around the building still found most of the anti-Smith standards in place and heavily guarded. Another round saw a struggle in some of the great wooden buildings. Robinson stopped for a moment, but did not rap for order.

One man raised a state standard in the far southern end of the hall, and came dancing down the aisle waving it. Another followed, then another, and finally with a rush, the aisles were filled with prancing, shouting men, holding aloft the heavy wooden signs bearing the insignia of their delegations.

Georgia in Action.
By this time Georgia was in real action, with two members competing for possession of her standard, and a crowd gathered about that swaying women banner. It developed that a difference of opinion had arisen between Charles Brown, of Cordele, and Andrew C. Erwin, of Athens, and that the delegation voted to permit Charles Brown to carry the Georgia standard, while men on each end bowed down. This operation completely demolished the emblem, but the fighting continued over the wreckage.

The sight of the Georgia banner among the celebrants incited the Smith people to renewed efforts in the direction of Tennessee. North Carolina and Alabama. Someone rushed to the rear of the hall and grabbed the North Carolina alternate standard and jumped up on the table in front of the speaker's stand, holding it aloft as a sign of victory. There was another scramble, and one of the supporters of the wooden contraption was broken in a jam around the North Carolina state.

Alabama's banner was held tight in the arms of A. H. Carmichael, the next center of attack. The number of men who had surrounded North Carolina's section moved a few steps backward to the Alabama section and came through as a single mass, bending Carmichael backward as an alarming alarm, with the heavy pole closed tight across his chest and over his left shoulder. Three or four lanky fellow Alabamians massed about him as he protecting group of shock troops and staved off what might have been a serious outbreak.

Then it was the turn of Tennessee, which had held its ground valiantly against sporadic attacks made by jubilant passersby. As if by preconcerted action a lanky individual gave the word to someone beside him and the standard of Old Hickory's home state was rushed, by football tactics, down the aisle. The standarder confusion of this coup the game became serious near the speaker's stand and one man was seen to raise one of the heavy instruments as if to strike a fellow delegate. Someone else grabbed him and the two went down, the pole end of the standard only showing above the jumble. Apparently there were no casualties.

Calls for Order.
Senator Robinson, who has been in constant contact as a vice presidential possibility, now began to call for order. He pounded heavily with the huge gavel without effect and one of the delegates who had been enjoying the wild scene insisted on furnishing the necessary music to keep it going.

Finally Robinson, by raising his thunderous voice, succeeded in getting across the admonition that "gentlemen" would be seated and with a flourish he finished his address. He was wildly applauded and as if nothing had happened the perspiring, the delegates who had joined in the demonstration proceeded to approve minor resolutions in the most harmonious manner.

A checkup revealed that the Alabama and Florida standards were among the few which stayed in place throughout the day. It also was noted that when the delegates sat in their seats and enjoyed it.

Leaders Are Worried.
Whether the calm which followed today's storm is to last is the problem which is troubling the leaders of the party. The fight over the prohibition plank threatens to develop into a knock down and drag out fight on the floor. The delegates have determined that the eighteenth amendment should be mentioned by name in the platform as an act which should be inviolate. The delegates have endeavored in vain, so far, to win support for a plank for law enforcement in general.

At least one baron had been disposed of over today through a compromise offered by Mayor Walker, of New York, who suggested that nominating speeches be permitted before the adoption of a platform. This was agreed to by the rules committee, after a difference had developed over when a candidate for president should be selected.

Mayor Walker's compromise provided that no selection could be made until after the platform fight had been disposed of.

Nominating Speeches.
Tonight's session, in the regular order, would consider the report of the platform committee. That being impossible, because there is no such report, the next business is the nominating speeches.

Georgia got first call, because her sister state, Alabama, yielded alphabetical priority to permit Charles Brown, of Cordele, to place Senator Walter F. George before the convention.

Arizona gave her place to New York and Franklin D. Roosevelt was next to nominate Governor Smith. Charles Howell, of Kansas City, and Harry Hannaford, of Tennessee, were the speakers for Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, and Representative Cordell Hull, Tennessee, respectively, the other principal candidates.

With the nominating speeches out of the way, nothing remains in the way of a final decision on the presidential nomination, now generally conceded to Governor Smith, except the settlement of the bitter prohibition row.

PARTY LEADER ASKED TO TALK AFTER BALLOTS

Missourian Urged To Throw Aside Old Quarrels and Ask Democrats To Back Their Chief.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Houston, June 27.—(AP)—Facing almost certain defeat, Senator Reed, of Missouri, was prepared tonight to lend the power of his celebrated oratory to the democratic national convention in a plea for harmony after Al Smith's nomination is recorded.

Unconfirmed rumors swept the convention hall that the Missourian would be invited to address the convention probably after the balloting, and that he would accept the invitation. The rumor was reported to be sponsoring the movement for a Reed speech, but leaders of neither side would confirm nor deny the reports.

Another rumor passed out was to the effect that Reed would offer the votes of Missouri to the successful candidate when the time came, but this report brought only another message that Missouri was going "to the end of the road."

Meanwhile the anti-Smith movement seemed to have collapsed even among the firm of the dry leaders to have the southerners unite behind a single candidate after the first ballot. If Smith is not nominated then, Harry Harris, of Kansas, offered the suggestion, but it went by the boards, with hardly a moment of consideration.

The general answer seemed to be "let's take that up later" and the drys went ahead with plans to salvage a dry plank from the wreckage of their campaign against Smith.

WOOLLEN'S NAME PUT ON BALLOTS

Houston, June 28.—(AP)—William H. Woollen, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., placed Evans Woollen, Ind., in nomination for the presidency on the democratic ticket, said:

"The militant democrats of Indiana enter this campaign aggressive and unafraid and will go all the way in support of the successful candidate of this convention no matter what his name may be or where he comes."

"Indiana presents for the consideration of this convention as a candidate for president a son of its pioneers trained in economics, in the law and in banking, conversant with important business, yet living among farmers who have testified to his sympathetic understanding of their problems, a proven vote getter, who proclaims effectively the Jeffersonian philosophy of government, possessing all the qualifications requisite to the successful administration of this office, Indiana offers a plain, every-day democrat—Evans Woollen."

CAPITOL STARTS ON SECOND YEAR

With Mayor I. N. Ragsdale playing the leading role, the first anniversary of the opening of the Capitol theater was celebrated with fitting exercises held just before the start of the last show Wednesday night.

Lou Powers, noted comedian, made a short speech of introduction and Mayor Ragsdale then felicitated the management of the Capitol theater on the success of the new play house in its first year of operation and praised the "class of entertainment" which has been offered there. He wished the playhouse a long career of service to the amusement lovers of the city.

With the close of his remarks, he cut a generous slice out of the mammoth cake, prepared for the occasion, and presented it to Miss Evelyn Napier, leading lady of the Evison-Napier company, which is playing "Sally" to large audiences this week. The Capitol theater was thrown open to the public just one year ago last night. Although it has been celebrating all week its anniversary, the cake exercises were postponed until the date of actual dedication to the public a year ago. The cake, which was 15 inches high, 20 inches in diameter at the base and weighed 26 1/2 pounds, was prepared by the Stone Baking company and its making was supervised by Sammy Mayer, now with that company, but formerly a popular member of the Crackerjacks under the late Charlie Frank.

About two hundred guests, invited for the occasion, occupied the loge seats for the night performance and for the birthday exercises. The program of the Capitol for this week is the Evison-Napier company, presenting "Sally," with Lou Powers in the chief comedy role, and "The Foreign Legion," Universal's story of the soldiers of fortune in the legion of France—the famous organization where the brave unknown bury themselves.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith's Georgia.
Babe Egan's "Redheads," from Hollywood, seem to have the whole of the city talking about their musical entertainment. There are nine attractive young ladies, each with plenty of genuine red hair and each young miss a talented artist. They sing, dance, play, and sing, and music and one of the best and perpetual organizations seen at the "Georgia."

Loew's Grand.
One of the snappiest little musical comedies seen in Atlanta in months is offered by Jessie Baker and William Redford as the leading attraction at Loew's Grand theater this week. There is another act on the bill of extraordinary merit this being the comedy skit of Harry Welch assisted by Harry Hills. Other acts are Kate and Wiley; the Eton Four;
and Gertrude Bond and Adele Trent.
The Loew picture is "Telling the World."

Howard.
Clara Bow, the red-haired "It" girl is back again at the Howard theater where her latest Paramount picture,
"Ladies of the Mob," is to be seen.
Featured with the dynamic Clara is Richard Arlen. The same fiery Clara who gave us "It" and "Red Hair," was never seen to a better advantage.
The Public Stage show, "Russian Revels," has been acclaimed by all critics as one of the fastest shows of synchronization and rhythm ever presented by Jack Stanley and the Howard Stage band.

Metropolitan.
Headlining this week on the Metropolitan's Vitaphone bill are Hyams and McIntyre, internationally famous vaudeville pair in a comedy playlet.
Famous in this country, they made their popularity international in scope when they hit the big European cities.
Feature attraction on the program is "Nameless Men," starring Antonio Moreno and Claire Windsor, with Eddie Gribbon and Charles Clary in the cast. Movie-tone News, also is on the program.

Rialto.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

PETER MAKES A DISCOVERY.

By Thornton W. Burgess.
Old Mother Nature doth arrange
Surprises that are passing strange.
Peter Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit was looking at his latest family with pride. He was sure, they were not very much to look at as yet. They were very small and rather helpless little bunnies whose

"Wha-wha-wha-what?" he stutted and stopped.

eyes had opened for the first time that very day. Naturally, those little eyes were filled with a great wonder.
Now, Peter had had this experience of looking at a new family for the first time on a number of occasions.
But each lot of babies seemed to him, and Mrs. Peter, just as wonderful as the previous lot.

"They certainly are," replied Peter.
"I believe they are the finest lot of babies we ever had. Yes, sir, I believe they are. You said, my dear, that there are five. One—two—three—four—where is the fifth one?"

Just then there was a general squirring of the babies. Like most other babies, baby rabbits do a lot of squirming. Out of the middle of that squirming mass popped another little head. Peter gasped. His lower jaw dropped and there he sat, staring with all his might, with his mouth wide open. "Wha-wha-wha-what?" he stuttered, and stopped.

could hit an elephant with a guitar.
Wallace Berry and Raymond Hatton are exciting a couple of hundred laughs per minute with their newest comedy screen, "The Big Killing," current at the Rialto theater. Berry and Hatton have the roles of Powder-Horn Pete and Dead-Eye Dan, two carnival
"sharpshooters," who become entangled in a mountain feud. In addition to the feature, Movie-tone News reel and three Vitaphone vaudeville presentations are seen.

Ponce de Leon.
"Seventh Heaven," the picture which has probably caused more favorable comment than any produced recently by American movie studios, will hold double bill position on the program of the Ponce de Leon theater, being the screen attraction there today and Friday. A special cast appears in the super-feature, which is a Fox production, and the management is expecting it to draw heavy attendance from Ponce de Leon patrons.

Empire.
With more drama than a crook picture, more comedy than a slapstick farce, more thrills than a wild western, that is "Chang," the screen attraction at the new Empire, corner of Georgia avenue and Crew street today only.

Tudor.
Jack Perrin in "Border Vengeance" will close today at the Tudor theater.
The story of a fast and furious cowboy, who is tricked out of his mine, and who fights and uses all of his wits and wile to win it back in a manner that you like.

Alamo No. 2.
Electrically spun cowboys were manufactured by an old process to lighten Lon Chaney's latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer mystery, "London After Midnight," now playing at the Alamo theater No. 2. The heavy, intricate scenes were made by blowing a rubber composition through an electric fan.

Cameo.
"We Americans" closes its engagement at the Cameo theater today. This picture of immigrants ideas toward the new country has made a most favorable impression on those who have already seen the film. Patsy
Ruth Miller, George Lewis and George Sizemore handle difficult roles in a most capable manner. "We Americans" is good entertainment.

BALLOONISTS ARRIVE FOR SATURDAY RACE
Detroit, June 27.—(AP)—Arrival of three more balloonists, pilots in the James Gordon Bennett trophy race which starts from the Ford airport
Saturday, today brought the entry total to seven balloons, with nine others to arrive before Friday.

Ernest L. Maag, representing Switzerland, and Charles Dolfus and Georges Blanchet, representing France, are the latest arrivals.
The 26 planes which will participate in the national air tour, also starting Saturday from the airport, will arrive today and tonight, officials of the tour announced. Tests and federal inspection of the planes will start today and continue until Saturday morning.
The world's largest and highest aviation beacon, a ball of neon light 12 feet in diameter, erected atop the new Penobscot building here, will be lighted for the first time tonight for the incoming planes of the air tour and for more than a hundred others expected during the next two days for the Detroit air olympics, aviation officials said today. The light is visible for sixty miles and is 665 feet above the ground.

G. O. P. Nomination
For Mass. Senator Finds No Takers

Boston, June 27.—(AP)—Attempts of Massachusetts republican leaders to reach an amicable agreement on who shall oppose United States Senator David L. Walsh for reelection have found rough going, just as it had appeared that next Saturday's conference here might be run off smoothly.
To the flat declaration of former Senator William Morgan Butler that he did not care to have the conference
"monopolized" by any one group, apparently had been added today an equally emphatic statement from Governor Alvan T. Fuller that he was not a candidate for any office.

SAVANNAH READY FOR BIG CARNIVAL

Savannah, Ga., June 27.—(AP)—Sports events, beauty contests, and a parade of 1,000 automobiles and floats, enlivened by dancing, fireworks and other entertainment, are scheduled on the program for the 1928 Savannah water carnival, July 2-4.

As announced here recently, the program calls for a parade of floats and automobiles beginning at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 2, as the opening event of the city's fifth annual water carnival.

Queens selected by 36 Georgia and South Carolina counties will ride on decorated floats sponsored by Savannah business firms. Miss Mildred Roberts, Savannah, will be crowned queen of the carnival by Miss Mary Corish, Savannah, the 1927 queen, the coronation taking place on the opening night.

Sporting events scheduled for the carnival include outdoor and speed-boat racing, bait casting, trap shooting, swimming and diving, in addition to an inter-city swim in which teams from Savannah, Charleston, Jacksonville, Waycross and Brunswick will compete.

Boat races will be held from 2 o'clock until 7 o'clock on the opening day. The carnival will be formally opened with the crowning of the queen, the water carnival circus and pageant and a fireworks display at 9:15 o'clock on the evening of July 2.

Swimming and diving contests for junior and senior boys and girls will be held on July 3. A swimming party for the county queens and attendants is scheduled for the morning, with bait-casting events listed for the afternoon. The beauty contest will be held at Tybee in the afternoon, followed in the evening by the annual banquet for queens and attendants and the annual queens' ball.

The third and final day of the carnival will be featured by the trap-shooting contest. The morning program will bring the carnival to a close.

Charged With Attack On Policeman, Now Dead, Cutliff Is Fined $250

A stenographic report of testimony given by a man, now dead, Wednesday convicted, Walter Cutliff, before a city criminal court jury, on charges of having attacked the late J. L. Henderson, De Kalb county policeman.

Judge Jesse M. Wood fined Cutliff $250, which he paid. The defendant was said to have assaulted Police Officer Henderson in May, 1927. Henderson was killed in an automobile accident several months later.

The policeman's testimony was recorded at a superior court hearing shortly after the fight, and introduced at Wednesday's trial over the protest of defense counsel.

Cutliff and George W. Andrews are alleged to have assaulted the policeman in a Spring street garage, while the latter, having discarded his gun, was working on an automobile.

Found Unconscious In Vacant Lot, Man Thought Dying

An unidentified white man unconscious and naked, was found early Wednesday night in a vacant lot on Piedmont avenue, between Decatur and Gilmer streets, by Call Officers Harper and Holland.

The man, who appears to be about 25 years old, was rushed to Grady hospital where it was found that apparently he was suffering from alcoholic poisoning. Doctors held little hope for his recovery.

Though the man's clothes were found near-by they contained no mark of identification. He is described as being about 5 feet 8 inches in height, weighing approximately 155 pounds, and with dark brown hair.

NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY

REDUCED TROLLEY FARES IN SUMMER SOUGHT FOR PUPILS

Request that the special street car rates for school children charged by the Georgia Power company during the regular school term be applied to the summer schools now in progress was made by a large delegation of Atlanta mothers who appeared before the state public service commission Wednesday to discuss the proposed plan.

No formal petition was entered but a conference was held which was attended by the mothers, by F. L. Butler, vice president and general operating manager of the power company; Willis A. Sutton, head of the city schools, and James A. Perry, chairman of the commission.

At the end of the conference Mr. Perry declared that the purpose of the meeting was to see what kind of plan could be worked out under which the bona fide school children can be permitted to purchase tickets at the rate of 20¢ for one dollar to be used during the regular hours of the summer schools.

MAJOR COHEN ANSWERS $50,000 DAMAGE SUIT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
An answer and a demurrer to the suit of A. S. Chamlee, of Bartow, Ga., against Major John S. Cohen, president and editor of The Atlanta Journal and democratic national committeeman for Georgia, for $50,000, were filed in the city court of Atlanta Wednesday.

Both the answer and the demurrer deny that the letter purporting to have been signed by Mr. Chamlee, and which the suit alleges had been given circulation by Major Cohen during the recent campaign to decide the method of choosing Georgia's delegates to Houston, was libelous or that circulation thereof constituted any cause of action. The demurrer asks that the suit be dismissed on these grounds.

The suit filed by Mr. Chamlee alleged that Major Cohen had given circulation to a letter purporting to have been signed by Mr. Chamlee, suggesting a plan to name the Georgia delegates, and alleged that he did not sign such a letter. The answer, pointing out that the letter was signed in typewriting, states that the defendant did not question authenticity of same since "this defendant had heard the plaintiff make addresses in which some of the views set forth in said letter were uttered by plaintiff and this defendant's information was that the plaintiff's views were as set forth in portions of said letter."

Pointing out that both parties to the suit were on opposite sides of a political controversy and each by holding public office, subjected himself to all legitimate criticism, the answer sets out that Major Cohen "acted in utmost good faith in handling the letter to Mrs. Edgar Alexander, democratic national committeewoman for Georgia, and believed that the plaintiff had written same."

SALVATION ARMY MUST PAY LICENSE ON JUNK STORES

The Salvation Army must pay licenses on its junk establishments, under a ruling Wednesday afternoon of the tax committee of city council. The committee denied a petition that the sales and collection departments be exempted.

Ratification of the revised tax ordinance and transaction of other routine business featured the session over which Alderman Robert E. Gann, alderman from the sixth ward and chairman, presided.

Payment of taxes on 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property was allowed the Salvation Army, but under the committee's decision the army must pay for the stores it operates for disposal of reclaimed junk gathered from local homes.

All actions of the committee will be submitted to city council at its regular meeting Monday for ratification.

Practically no changes were made in the tax ordinance, members of the committee said. No revision of charges were made.

SALVATION ARMY INSTALLS OFFICERS IN FULTON VILLAGE

Salvation Army soldiers in Fulton village Wednesday night installed Captain Mildred Cameron, of Charleston, W. Va., and Lieutenant Pearl Watts, of LaGrange, Ga., as the new officers of corps No. 3, 164 Carroll street, with Brigadier David Main officiating at the installation.

The new girl officers were commissioned with the class which graduated from training college here Tuesday night and their first work as Salvation Army officers.

Public welcoming exercises, to which the general public will be invited, are arranged for 11 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock Sunday. Captain Cameron formerly was a Presbyterian missionary to the coal miners in the West Virginia mountains and joined the Salvation Army while Brigadier Main was commander of the West Virginia division. Brigadier Main is now in charge of the army's five-year program for the southeastern territory and Mrs. Main is leader of the Home league at Fulton village.

ALLEGED SCHEME TO EXTORT MONEY LAID TO COWART

An alleged scheme to extort money from a negro woman under pretense of being a government officer sent out by the commissioner to raise her bond was charged against J. W. Cowart at a hearing Wednesday before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith. Cowart was held for the federal grand jury under $5,000 bond.

SEATTLE WITNESS COSTS GOVERNMENT TOTAL OF $358.90

Records of United States district court here for a witness' expenses were broken Wednesday when the Rev. Charles T. Shaw, of Seattle, Wash., a witness in a case before the federal grand jury, was paid $358.90 for travel and living expenses. Dr. Shaw traveled a distance of 2,939 miles to Atlanta to testify before the grand jury and was allowed five cents a mile, or $293.90 for the 5,878 miles, both ways. Dr. Shaw's 15 days' expenses, at $5 a day, came to $65, so that the total cost of his testimony to the government was $358.90.

Bonney-Saville Wedding Rites Will Be Solemnized Today

The marriage of Miss Caroline Bonney and Carson Franklin Saville is of wide interest to Atlanta society. The ceremony will be performed at 4 o'clock at All Saints' Episcopal church, the Rev. W. W. Memminger, rector, officiating in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

Miss Bonney, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mason Bonney, is a popular member of the younger set of Atlanta, who has been widely entertained at a round of prenuptial gaieties. Mr. Saville, the son of Mrs. Lillian Saville, is widely known in business and civic circles. Following a wedding trip to New Orleans, Biloxi and San Antonio, Texas, they will make their home in Rock Springs, Texas.

Brides-elect who will be honored today are Miss Margaret Keeney, for whom Mrs. Philip Keeney will entertain at a trousseau tea; Miss Anna Harwell, who will be honored at bridge by Miss Agnes Adams; Miss Elizabeth Louise Ellis, whose wedding party will be entertained at a buffet supper by Mrs. E. D. Saye, following the wedding rehearsal, and Miss Margaret Louise Minahan, honor guest at the party at which Mrs. Robert Margeson entertains.

Better Films Luncheon Takes Place Thursday.

In order to take part in a contest involving the most popular films of the past 12 months, the members of the Atlanta better films committee attending the regular monthly luncheon at 12 o'clock Thursday, June 27, at the Henry Grady hotel, are asked to bring pencil and paper.

Members of the Williams Players will be honor guests of the organization, the selection of plays being warmly endorsed by the films committee. Mrs. A. G. Maxwell will give an original reading on "Standing in Line for a Movie." Mrs. C. Decker Tebo, prominent members of the films board and closely identified with A. R. activities, will give a report on the national D. A. R. better films work.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing is films president, and members of the P. T. A. branch of the organization are instructed by Mrs. J. A. Williams, chairman, to continue as representatives until the fall meeting.

Mrs. L. W. Conger Is Hostess at Tea.

Mrs. L. W. Conger was hostess at a tea Wednesday at her home on Eighth street in compliment to her mother, Mrs. William Dunlop. Assisting Mrs. Conger in entertaining were Mrs. J. W. Welsh and Mrs. Helen L. Olson. Seventy guests were present.

North Carolina Society Makes Request.

The ladies of the North Carolina society in Atlanta, and those from that state who are not members are requested to call by 6271-J or Hemlock 1257-W at once.

Hardaway-McDuffie Wedding Solemnized in East Point

A marriage of widespread interest and one marked by beauty and dignity was that of Miss Daisy Hardaway and Roderick McDuffie, of East Point, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the East Point Methodist church. The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. G. F. Venable.

The church was effectively decorated with massive palms and ferns, in front of which were tall baskets filled with pink and white gladioli, interspersed with cathedral candelabra. The pews for the family were marked with white tulle and roses. Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Avis Patterson, of College Park, at the organ, and Miss Jane Frances Reagin, of Carrollton, who sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Because."

The bride entered with her father, Dr. R. A. Hardaway, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man. She was radiantly lovely in her bridal gown of lustrous satin, fashioned with tight bodice and skirt of duchesse rose point lace, embroidered in seed point pearls, featuring an uneven hem-line. The veil which fell in graceful folds was held to her head by a becoming coronet of orange blossoms and tiny orange blossoms held her cap in place at the back. Her white satin slippers were trimmed in orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

After the church ceremony, a brilliant reception was given at the home of the bride's parents in honor of the bride party and out-of-town guests. The bride's room was lavishly decorated with garden flowers and luxuriant ferns. Punch was served on the porch and delicious ice course in the dining room.

Mrs. Hardaway, mother of the bride, was gowned in black lace and wore a shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. McDuffie, mother of the groom, wore a black dress of gabardine and lace, with a shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. McDuffie, who is the older daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hardaway, of East Point, is a beautiful and accomplished young woman. She graduated from S. C. W. at Millidgeville, after which she studied at Emory, successfully taught school in Newnan for several years.

Mr. McDuffie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McDuffie, of East Point, and descendant of two of the most prominent families of Georgia, the Daughters and Silvers.

Mr. and Mrs. McDuffie left after the reception for a motor trip through the Carolinas. They will be at home in East Point after July 5.

'Wings of the Storm' Features Program At Rialto Theater

A swiftly moving story containing thrills and laughter, suspense of a very high order and the work of "Thunder," the marvel dog star, are features of "Wings of the Storm," the offering at the children's Saturday matinee at the Rialto theater this week. This picture has as its background Mount Rainier, one of the most majestic peaks in the world. The fascinating movie features the wonderful Saint Peter's choir of the eternal city. The great man of Italy, Benito Mussolini, greeting the people of the United States as he stands in one of the show places of his native land. The Franz Schubert celebration in Vienna, Austria, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the great composer's death, and several other interesting features. A comedy will complete the splendid bill.

The children's Saturday matinee, sponsored the past seven years at the Howard theater by the Atlanta Better Films committee, is shown weekly at the popular Rialto theater on the corner of Forsyth and Luckie streets, where pictures suitable for children of all ages are shown, and where the children are met with warm welcome by Manager Murray of the Rialto and the matinee committee, the boy and girl scouts and the chaperons, composed of members of the P. T. A. division of the Atlanta Better Films committee.

Matinee begins at 9:30. Admission is 10 cents for children of school age and under, and 25 cents for adults. Nurse matrons are admitted.

Christian Endeavors To Have Picnic.

Donehoo-Chambers Wedding Is Beautiful Church Ceremony

A wedding of exquisite beauty was that of Miss Ola Evelyn Donehoo and Franklin Chambers, which was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at St. Mark's Methodist church, Dr. W. L. Duren, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and similar interspersed with tall pedestals filled with Easter lilies and pink gladioli. The altar was flanked with graceful palms and tall slender seven-branched candelabra holding burning candles alternating with single massive candles forming a semi-circle added a note of loveliness to the beautiful scene. The bride was escorted by her father, Mr. W. J. Donehoo, and the groom by his best man, Mr. W. J. Chambers.

The organ was played by Joseph Ragan, organist of North Avenue Presbyterian church, who rendered the following program: "Dawn," by Jenkins; Intermezzo, by Schmitt; Overture to Lohengrin, by Wagner; Finale in D minor, by H. A. Matthews. During the ceremony he played "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star" from Tannhauser. The bride party entered to the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. The recessional was the wedding march from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

DRY CLEANING

Sanitary Pressing Club

The ushers, who entered singly down opposite aisles, were Guy Carmichael, Miles Goldsmith, Travis Johnson and Forrest Hill. The bridesmaids, Misses Relie Donehoo, Genevieve Connell, Katherine Babl and Beatrice North, entered next down opposite aisles, alternating with the groomsmen, who were Will Chambers, W. J. Davis, Jr., Fred Saunders and Lee Turman.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of pastel-shaded chiffon and lace veiling flesh satin fashioned similarly with lace waists, and full skirts falling in graceful uneven hemlines. Contrasting ribbons draped from the right shoulder across the back to the left side ended in a huge butterfly bow, falling below the hemline. They carried sheath bouquets of roses, snapdragons and delphinium in pastel shades. Miss Donehoo wore lovely in yellow trimmed in contrasting shade of blue ribbon; Miss Connell wore orchid affect with yellow ribbon; Miss Babl's gown was of pale green with pink ribbon and Miss North wore attractive in peach with trimmings of green ribbon.

The nation of honor, Mrs. W. E. Montgomery, Jr., of St. Augustine, Fla., was followed by Miss Louise McCulloch, of Greensboro, maid of honor. Their gowns were fashioned similar to the bridesmaids. Mrs. Montgomery wearing pink with orchid ribbon and Miss McCulloch wearing blue with pink ribbon.

Carl Tidwell, Jr., wearing a miniature tuxedo, carried the ring in the heart of a rose on a white satin pillow. Immediately preceding the bride came the flower girl, little Julia Montgomery, niece of the groom, daintily attired in a pink and white gown, carrying a small, old-fashioned bouquet.

The bride, who entered with her father, Mr. Donehoo, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, William A. Green. Her petite brunette beauty was enhanced by her bridal robes of ivory satin, fashioned along graceful lines. The long light-fitting sleeves, yoke and uneven hemline were fashioned of real lace embroidered in pearls and crystals. The long court train, which fell from her shoulders, was attached at the waistline. The exquisite veil of filmy tulle which was edged with princess lace was confined to her hair with a cap of point applique and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies, swansonia and white sweet peas.

A brilliant reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Westminster drive. The home was beautifully decorated with graceful palms and quantities of gladioli, Easter lilies and snapdragons. Punch was served from bowls embellished in roses, by Miss Mildred Bradley and Mrs. H. H. Haug. Mrs. Miles Goldsmith, assisted by Miss Jane Near, kept the bride's book.

Mrs. Donehoo, mother of the bride, wore white lace over flesh chiffon veiling turquoise satin. Her flowers were orchids and sweet peas. Mrs. Chambers, mother of the groom, was groomed in orchid georgette with shoulder bouquet of pink roses.

The couple left immediately following the reception for Washington, N. C., where they will make their home in Atlanta.

Miss Ritchie Weds Alfred Simpson.

The marriage of Miss Lucile Ritchie and Alfred Simpson was solemnized June 20 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Ritchie, in East Point. Rev. Willis M. Jones, of Douglasville, performed the ceremony. The couple left by motor for Asheville, N. C., and other points of interest in North Carolina. After July 1 they will be at home at 157 Alexander street, Toccoa.

Col. and Mrs. Jarvis' Social Life at Grove Park Inn Are Honored at Ft. Prior To Departure

A polo game will be played Sunday afternoon at Fort McPherson between the Governor's Horse Guard and the McPherson squad. The guardsmen will mount Ray Love at 1. P. D. Christian, 2. Lawrence Gay at 3 and Wesley Moran at 4, while the four horsemen of McPherson will mount Captain Albert G. Wing at 1, Major Gustav H. Frank at 2, Lieutenant Gilbert Proctor at 3, and Major G. I. Tolson at 4. Lieutenant Robert F. Foster will alternate at 1 and 4 with Major Tolson and Captain Wing.

A novel feature of the afternoon will be the polo game between two teams composed of enlisted men from Headquarters company and H. Company mounted on mules.

The army personnel is changing in view of orders of the war department, which will cause the departure of several attractive members of the army contingent. Among those who are soon to leave are Colonel and Mrs. McPherson, who have been making charming acquisitions to the post for the past six years and are leaving July 10 for station in Washington, D. C.

Colonel Jarvis has been the efficient officer in charge of the national guard affairs of the fourth corps since his arrival at Ft. McPherson during his tour in the post. Mrs. Jarvis, with her charm of manner and social affairs of the post, as well as in Atlanta, will be greatly missed.

Colonel and Mrs. Jarvis are members of the Druid Hills Golf club and the McPherson Officers' club and Mrs. Jarvis is a member of the Fine Arts club, the Shelling Arms, the Atlanta Woman's club, and is vice president of the Chapel Guild and president of the Army Bridge club.

Honoring Colonel and Mrs. Jarvis. Captain and Mrs. David E. Barnett entertained informally at an evening bridge Wednesday at their quarters in honor of Colonel and Mrs. Jarvis, including in their guest list Colonel and Mrs. Henry A. Ripley, Major and Mrs. Augustus B. Jones and Lieutenant and Mrs. R. E. Powell.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Jarvis, and her niece, Mrs. W. T. Mitchell, of Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. Stanley Blanton, an attractive member of the post personnel, who will leave for Fort Benning, Ga., where her husband, Captain Blanton, will be stationed, will share honors at the table to be given by Mrs. Harry G. Tabbets and Miss Dorothy Tabbets at their quarters in the garrison. The guest list will include Mesdames Jarvis, Mitchell, Blanton, Richmond P. Davis, Abraham G. Lott, George F. Baltzell, Harry J. Keady, Simon J. Seal, Robert Joerg, Jr., John R. Dinwiddie, A. M. Parsons and Miss Lucie Olive Gaines.

An anticipated pleasure of the week is the bridge-tee to be given by Mrs. Will L. Pyles at her quarters in the garrison Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Pyles has invited twenty members of the army contingent for the occasion.

Colonel and Mrs. Jarvis will be the honor guests Saturday evening at a bridge-supper given by Colonel and Mrs. Samuel B. McIntyre at their home on Charles avenue. The guest list includes Colonel and Mrs. Jarvis, Colonel and Mrs. Harry A. Ripley, Colonel and Mrs. Frank H. Burton.

Colonel George F. Baltzell has returned from Camp Eustis, Va., where he spent several days with his son, Cadet George H. Baltzell, Jr., who as a member of the first class of the United States Military academy, was ordered to Virginia for a few days' training.

"Classmates" Features Palace Theater Program. Richard Barthelmess, in "Classmates," features the Saturday morning matinee program at the Palace theater, sponsored by the Better Films Committee. "The Story of the Stars," "Spangled Banner" is another picture of universal inspiration. Everyone will want to know how our first flag came into being as a national emblem. Betsy Ross, George Washington and other loved historical characters take part.

A large following has been obtained for the thrilling serial, "Blake of Scotland Yard," to be shown Saturday, and a preview in keeping with the Fourth of July holiday spirit will be in charge of Mrs. T. Ray Wiggins, prolog chairman. Mrs. E. W. Burrens, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. A. C. Hildebrand and Mrs. Otis Penn and the best of care will be taken of the littlest ones coming. Nurses are also admitted. Pass Junior High, with Mrs. George Price, P. T. A. president, and Mrs. E. Russell, better films chairman, will sponsor the matinee and provide a number of lovely prizes.

The matinee committee emphasizes the fact that the time admission differs from regular theater admission in that it admits all children of school age, whether high, junior high, grammar, kindergarten or under. Others are 20 cents.

The Misses Thompson To Give Luncheon. Misses Lucy and Lela Thompson will entertain the Beta Sigma club with a bridge-luncheon at Le Lume tea room on Peachtree road Saturday afternoon, June 30. Sixteen guests are invited.

Peel Your Skin To Natural Beauty. To give your skin that natural appearance of clear, unblemished loveliness, use a little pure mercolized wax. Preserve an ounce from your drugstore and use as directed. The wax gradually absorbs the coarse, faded or discolored film skin and reveals clear, velvety soft and glowing. Asheville, N. C., June 27.—Youth is being served this week at Grove Park Inn with quite a cluster of honeymooners and others participating. Most of them are riding horseback between golf games, as, for instance, Mrs. and Mrs. Daniel Sumner Warner, of Greensboro, whose marriage was a brilliant event of last week in Atlanta. All eyes follow Mrs. Warner, formerly Miss Jane Devision, whether she is dancing in exotic evening costume or riding in smart sporting garb with her husband in their sport roadster, with their Irish wolf hound erect in the rumble seat.

Other pretty equestrians at the inn are Miss Elizabeth Hunter, of Atlanta, and Miss Ruth McClellan, of Birmingham. Miss Hunter accompanies her mother, Mrs. Joel Hunter, and her brothers, Joel and W. T. Hunter. The Messrs. Hunter are too busy with golf to ride horseback. Miss McClellan has recently visited Mrs. Desales Harrison in Atlanta.

Prominent among recent arrivals at the inn are Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, of Baltimore, the only woman lawyer appearing in cases before the United States circuit court of appeals in session here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Breeze (Zona Gale) of Portage, Wis., motored to Lake Lure yesterday, where they were the guests of Mr. Morse, president of the company, for luncheon and a tour of the park.

Edwin R. Pyle, president of the Cleveland & Mahoning Valley Railroad company, will arrive Sunday with his wife and son for a visit. P. R. Lamar, of Atlanta, is at the inn with the executive committee, Interstate Cotton Crushers' association.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Disoway will arrive Thursday for a visit. Prof. Edmond Morgan of the Harvard Law school, will arrive Thursday at Grove Park Inn, and Silas H. Straffen, of Chicago, and Miss Bertha Barrett, of Augusta, and Miss J. M. Lefflard, of Savannah, spent the week-end at the inn.

Miss Young Honors Summer Bride-Elect.

Miss Lillian Johnson, a bride-elect, was honor guest at a luncheon Saturday given by Miss Leah Young at her home, 794 Boulevard, S. E. Miss Young was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. T. W. Young, and her sister, Mrs. Edwin T. Harper. The guests included Mesdames Doris Williams, Elizabeth Hudson, Mabel Robinson, Marie Suttles, Mesdames Z. A. Johnson, Maude Williams, W. A. Sango, Gilmore Moore, Cecil Young, J. B. Alred, H. W. Tims, R. T. Nesbit, O. L. McMichael.

Now You Can Reduce 2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night

Eat what you please Wear what you please Do what you please Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes. Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of some of the most famous springs in America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well-groomed men. Excess weight has been removed, skin has been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

Painstaking analyses of the active ingredients of the better from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts. Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner. Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work that it is absolutely harmless.

Lose Weight Where You Most Want To

Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effect on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of your own home.

Try Fayro at Our Risk

The price of Fayro is $1.00 a package. Inside each package you get an interesting booklet, "Health and Open Pores."

HERE'S PROOF

Read what Fayro Baths have done for others.

"Three Fayro baths reduced my weight 11 pounds in 8 days. I feel better than I have felt for years."

"My double chin vanished in the magic of Fayro bath."

"My hips were always too plump. I lost 14 pounds in three weeks; feel better and certainly look better."

"Thank you for Fayro. I lost 10 pounds in two weeks; feel better and certainly look better."

"Since childhood my thick ankles have always been a source of embarrassment. After three Fayro baths they have reduced them beautifully. Thank you very much."

For obvious reasons, names are not used in every letter published here. The letters are all true and the names and addresses will be given on request.

Three Generations

By WARWICK DEEPIING

OLD John Pybus, formerly a bookkeeper in London, is serving as a porter in an inn at Castle Craven where his son Conrad sits in the study. He has been estranged from both his sons since the death of his wife, and has never seen his father. Pybus, who has lost track of his son, Conrad, is now in the inn where he is serving as a porter. He is looking for his son, but he has no idea where he is. He is looking for his son, but he has no idea where he is. He is looking for his son, but he has no idea where he is.

She knew that she would love him the better for his sensitive outburst. With one hand pressing his head against the door, she waited for him to express his self-realizations. "But don't you think that his last few years will have been rather happy years?" "But one takes so much for granted. One gets so absorbed."

Pybus's car turned into the Saracen yard and came to rest with its long blue bonnet within six feet of the inn's side door. Lance and his father were in the act of putting the fur rug from the car into the trunk when the white door opened and showed them the venerable carrying a little black tray. On it were two plates, surrounded by two tin covers—the venerable's dinner, or his two silver cups of maintenance.

It was a singular occasion. The chauffeur got down to open the rear door, and Pybus, being next to that door, was the first to leave the car. Both Lance and the chauffeur saw that particular act. Pybus's simple and quaint bean geste. It embodied a ritual. Pybus, in his long coffee-colored overcoat, stood at the bottom of the two steps, and holding his hands, claimed the privilege of carrying his father's dinner tray.

And the venerable consented. He recognized and surrendered to an act of grace. Pybus, carrying the tray with something of the air of a knight bearing his lord's sword and spurs on a black cushion, walked down and across the Saracen yard with his father. It was the most silent of ceremonies. Neither of them had uttered a word, and Lance, who had remained in the car, knew that he had witnessed a notable act.

Lance had seen more than an old fellow in a black coat and striped trousers standing in a doorway holding a tray. He had been absent at Windsor less than a week and he had returned to see the venerable as he had not seen him before, as a very old man. Just those few days, an insignificant lapse of time, and yet the thing had happened. Or he had returned with eyes that could be startled by the change, though the change must have been there.

"Your dinner will be getting cold." "You are going to join me, Pybus?" "Of course." "Then I'll go up and order." "No, no, no account! I'll go myself. We'll have what you are having." Pybus came out of the cottage and met his son. They looked at each other. They were son and father. They smiled.

It began to rain after Pybus's car had left. Old Pybus had gone on duty, and Lance, after unpacking his suitcase and looking at the landscape through a wet window, felt most strangely like a small boy in need of comfort. The little room struck him, and his mood was penetrated by a like feeling of rawness. He and his father had talked for a while before the fire and Lance had raised the question of money.

"Do you mind how I use that check, pater?" "Just as you please, old chap. It's just a bit of paper." And Lance said, "Did you notice how old he looks?" "I hadn't realized it before. It shocked me." Pybus, leaning forward to warm his hands, had answered very slowly: "He is a very old man. Of course—both of us—would rather— But he's the sort that likes to die in harness." The ardor of youth in arms confronted the shadow of the inevitable. A very old man! And suddenly he realized death and its physical finality as a blotting out of time, yet as that rain was blotting out sky and hill, he had never seen death.

Lance put on a raincoat and an old cap and went out into the rain. He knew quite well where he was going. He was going to Mary. He was running to her in this moment of almost childish bewilderment and pain as he would run to her through life, to his beloved, the one creature from whom he would unthinkingly exact tenderness, soft touches, understanding. There was that in him which seemed to know without knowing, as a child knows. He wanted this sense of elemental softness touched and soothed. He wanted to express something. He wanted her and self-expression.

He noticed neither the mud nor the rain. He sought her cottage like a reared small boy making for home. His problem was hers; she had no riddles of her own, or he had forgotten them. He found himself at her door, knocking.

It opened. She was there in the dim, wet, winter light. He saw her eyes and did not translate their expression into any selfless language. "Mary!" She looked at him, and somehow her hands went out to him as if she had for him that strange, indefinable something. His tremblings were hers, his angers, his bewilderments. There were things that she set aside.

"O, my dear!" He put his head down on her shoulder. "O, what a kid I am! I want to tell you—"

She had taken him into the kitchen and there they had sat side by side on a couple of wooden chairs, with the kitchen range showing its black teeth at them like an idol with a head full of live coals. She had listened. She was sufficiently unpractical to understand him and his moods.

"I reckon I need a operation, but ever time I pick a fat hen I get to thinkin' how I'd look on the operatin' table."

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, June 27.—(AP)—Call money opened at 7 per cent, the highest renewal rate since June, 1921, and then advanced to 7 1/2 around noon. Time money was scarce at 6 per cent, the highest rate in seven years.

Considering the tense money market situation the stock market acted remarkably well. As a result of the widely predicted month end money strain and gradually advancing rates today's rates for call and time money were expected by the stock market. Today's stock market was highly professional. Only a very short time ago the public was having any stock showing signs of activity. The public is now standing aside looking on. Professional money professional traders are either covering short stock or buying long stock, anticipating an opportunity to take profits next week when easier money is expected. The best information in banking circles here is that money by the end of next week will be easier but not easy. Easy money is not expected until there has been further liquidation in uncollateralized bonds.

Trading Increases

Trading in stocks the first hour today footed up 672,000 shares against 383,000 yesterday and to noon 1,459,000 shares against 872,000 yesterday. During the morning advance from a fraction to a couple of points or more occurred in leading stocks. Trading was fairly brisk around noon on the advance in the rate for call money, but was again slack in the afternoon. A great deal of criticism is being heard in some Wall Street circles about the federal reserve banks and the member banks for the existing money market conditions, some blaming one, some the other. The feeling some Wall Street circles have is that the existing high rates for time and call money are artificial; that money would get easy quickly if the federal reserve would reverse its policy and start buying government securities in the open market.

Undoubtedly the money market would be helped if the federal reserve started to buy government securities. It should be kept in mind, however, that the federal reserve has already started to sell government securities after speculation in the stock market had gone too far and after too many new securities had been floated. These two developments driving the member banks into borrowing from the federal reserve banks, which in turn caused the federal reserve banks to absorb credit by plugging in the stock market or floating new securities.

The federal reserve bank did reduce their discount rates last summer to help gold exports, part of which have been used by France in returning to a gold basis. Officials of the federal reserve bank have said that they would not want to repeat the mistake of last year. When speculation in stocks and bond markets of new bonds was carried too far the federal reserve stepped in and began to sell government securities. The gold exports had been what was intended in helping France and England directly and indirectly. There has been a halt in offerings of new securities. Undoubtedly the federal reserve is likely to stay comparatively higher until there has been further liquidation in the stock and bond markets.

Call Money Soars—Stock Market Highly Professional—Public Standing Aside and Watching—Trading as Wall Street Assumes Control

Call Money Soars—Stock Market Highly Professional—Public Standing Aside and Watching—Trading as Wall Street Assumes Control

There was much discussion here today of an advertisement by one of the national banks discussing the brokers' loan and the unsold bond situations. Financial writers criticized in the advertisement for telling the facts about the existing situation. The advertisement then added:

"How are distributors of these securities to market their goods if the advance is to the effect that loans are too high and therefore these new securities should be practically ignored? How are distributors to reduce their loans unless they have an opportunity to take profits next week?"

Wall Street's verdict is that this advertisement is downright stupid because the bank practically admits it has been hung up with new offerings which it is anxious to unload. The stock market started its sensational price decline the last hour of June 11. From then until June 19 when the decline had run 24 points from the recently established new high for the time, the stock market in declining, advancing and then starting downward was following closely what occurred in the big March, 1929, break. During the ten days of March, 1929, there was a steady uninterrupted price decline and something of the same sort was expected for the closing fortnight of this month.

Decline Halted

Instead, however, the decline halted abruptly on June 19 after which trading dropped off until last Monday the turnover was the smallest in 20 months, followed by increasing activity with the price trend upward, despite heavy calling of loans by the banks and despite money rates at the feared high level.

What was it that caused the stock market to turn back about? When we go back to the records we find that on June 19, after which trading dropped off until last Monday the turnover was the smallest in 20 months, followed by increasing activity with the price trend upward, despite heavy calling of loans by the banks and despite money rates at the feared high level.

Strain Is Eased

However, when the Morgan firm and the J. P. Morgan & Co. bank eased the strain in the money market on June 20, well informed Wall Street recalled other widely separated critical times when exactly the same thing had been done; hence on June 20 Wall Street began with a back-swing that took the Morgan firm and the National City bank to the rescue this time. The answer probably is that between $800,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 will be distributed July 1 in interest and dividends; under normal conditions much of this interest and dividend money will be used to buy government securities. If the reduction is not enough to make the situation sound then the price decline can be resumed after July 1.

CORB MART CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY BY SHAKING OFF LETHARGY

Trading Moderate as Prices Show Wide Variety of Gains

New York, June 27.—(AP)—The Corb Mart today celebrated its seventh anniversary under a roof by shaking off the lethargy of the past few days. Trading was not exactly heavy, but prices advanced in a wide variety of issues, with virtually every group except the utilities closing higher. Increase of the call money rate to 7 1/2 per cent tempered trading in the afternoon, but most gains were held.

Among the features was the strength of aluminum shares. Chain store issues also were strong. Slightly moving up. Other strong spots included Sherwin Williams, which reached a new top at 73 3/4; General Electric, which reached 42 1/2; and United Fruit, which reached 42 1/2. The market was generally buoyant, with prices advancing in a wide variety of issues, with virtually every group except the utilities closing higher. Increase of the call money rate to 7 1/2 per cent tempered trading in the afternoon, but most gains were held.

Galena Signal Oil again led the advance in the oil group, the old preferred gaining 13 points net to the new 8. Gulf, Humble and Standard of Oil, which reached 42 1/2, 42 1/2 and 42 1/2, respectively.
